Alpine Road Truck-Auto Crash Kills One

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Bernard W. McCann, 58-year-old Redwood City woman who was killed Tuesday when a runaway truck struck her car in Portola Valley.

The accident occurred on Alpine Road and Westridge Drive. Truck driver Joe Campos said the brakes on his vehicle failed as he headed down the Westridge Drive hill just north of Alpine. Mrs. McCann was northbound on Alpine, highway patrol officers said.

So great was the impact, investigating officers said, that wreckage was strewn for a distance of 90 feet into the field next to the road. The truck was loaded with sheetrock, a building material.

Mrs. McCann was pronounced dead on arrival at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital Tuesday morning. Campos and a passenger in his truck, William Morris, had to climb out of the cab of their demolished truck through a window. Both men were taken to Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital. Campos, a 39-year-old San Jose man, was reported "in good condition" by hospital officials yesterday. Morris, 22, also of San Jose, was reported released by the hospital yesterday.

Mrs. McCann operated Verona, Inc., an interior decorating firm at 884 Portola Road, with her husband, Bernard. She resided at 1915 Hull Ave., Redwood City, and was a past president of the Zonta Club, a service organization in Redwood City which awards scholarships to college women interested in aviation. She was also a member of Companions of Foresters of America.

Following funeral services at the Redwood Chapel, 847 Woodside Road, Redwood City, interment will be held at the Skylawn Memorial Park Cemetery at Half Moon Bay Road and Skyline Blvd.

Besides her husband, Mrs. McCann is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Hewitt, of Limestone, Me.; five sisters and three brothers; and two grandchildren.

Voters Approve Rec Building Proposal

Speed Building Project

Wasting no time after the victory of their community activities bond issue proposal at the polls, members of the Menlo Park recreation commission last night were to start discussion of a building time schedule and bond sales procedures.

The bond proposal passed by a margin of 2600 to 749—meaning that 77.6 percent of those who went to the polls favored the project. A two-thirds majority was required.

"How deep we'll get in the discussion remains to be seen," city recreation director Fred Parsons said. He intimated that the elated commission members might hold a "victory meeting" and not get too involved in their discussions.

The commissioners were to meet at the Nealon Park Rec building.

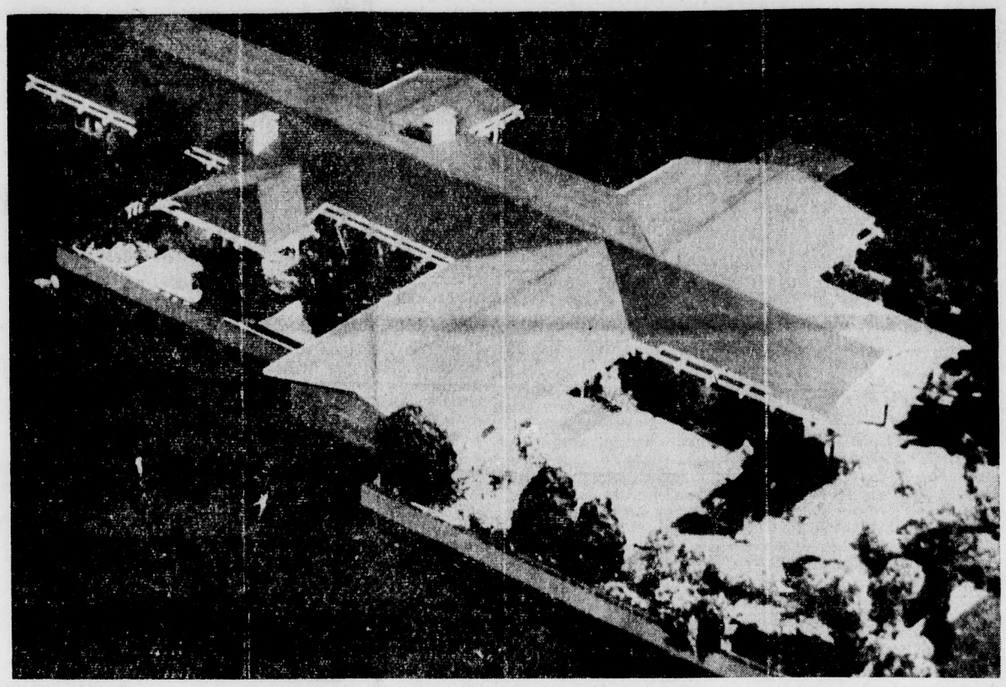

Recreation Commission Chairman Kenneth Brown issued a statement of thanks yesterday to those who voted for the measure.

"The Menlo Park recreation commission is deeply gratified that its plans for the youths and adults of the community have received the endorsement of the voters, by their approval of the bond issue to construct the community activities building," he said.

"This is another long stride toward the ultimate completion of a community center of which Menlo Park will be proud.

"The commission extends its sincere thanks to the many devoted citizens who worked for the bond issue campaign, and to the council members and the staff of the city who have always been understanding and cooperative with the functions of the recreation commission."

The citizens' committee which campaigned successfully for passage of the $450,000 bond issue was headed by L. L. Johnston.

HERE'S WHAT . . . . . the city's voters bought, when they Tuesday passed a $450,000 community activities building bond issue. The picture is of a model which is no wat civic center. To get the proper idea of its size, figure the long dimension of the building to be about 140 feet. The building will have more than 14,000 square feet of floor space.

Two Incumbent Councilmen Win

Two incumbent city councilmen breezed to victory by easy margins, a recreation commissioner was elected to the council, and the city's community activities building $450,000 bond issue proposal was passed resoundingly here Tuesday.

In an election which saw 27.2 per cent of the voters turn out—a fairly good percentage for a municipal election—the following tallies were reached:

FOR CITY COUNCIL

| | |
|---|---|
| Ira Bonde (inc.) | 2636 |
| Michael Belangie (inc) | 2540 |
| James Calloway | 2321 |
| Max Borchert | 1769 |

BOND ISSUE

| | |
|---|---|
| Bonds, yes | 2600 |
| Bonds, no | 749 |

City hall observers noted that the popular community activities building proposal was popular in all parts of the city, getting the necessary two-thirds vote in all but two of the city's 28 precincts.

The "1000 automatic no vote barrier" appeared to be broken, too. Campaigners for the bond issue had stressed that passage of the measure would result in no tax rate increase, since bonds will be retired out of sales tax funds.

The bond issue campaigners had theorized that it would be necessary to get at least 3000 voters to the polls, to cancel out the "automatic noes." With a total of 3513 voters casting ballots, they got their margain and more.

Only at precincts at O'Connor and Willow School did the measure fail to achieve its majority.

Major Max Borchert, challenging candidate who was not elected, showed more strength than at least one of the candidates who ultimately was elected, in four precincts. Most of these were in areas which would be affected by a proposed freeway route by the state highway commission.

This was a good turnout, considering that his campaign was a personal one, according to observers.

Bonde's strength also was a surprise. He had campaigned actively, and got more votes than Belangie — the vote-getting leader four years ago—in 24 precincts of the total. His support was general throughout the city.

Voting was light at three precincts in the Belle Haven area, at the city council chambers precinct serving Stanford Village, at Willow School, and at the Menlo Park School District office at 555 Glenwood Avenue.

The Stanford Village precinct, set up to serve 320 registered voters, attracted only 15 ballot-casters during the entire day. But all 15 of them voted for the bond issue.

There were two write-in votes registered on the machines.

Seven absentee ballots were counted. All seven favored the bond issue measure, and the votes for councilmen were scattered.

Use of voting machines speeded the count to the extent that election results were complete, if unofficial by 9:30 p.m.

In a statement issued yesterday, Bonde observed that he was "very pleased with the vote.

Woodside Trio Reelected—Heavy Vote

Better than 44 per cent of Woodside's registered voters turned out Tuesday to return three incumbent councilmen and the town treasurer to office in the community's first election contest.

It was by far the biggest council vote since the town's incorporation in 1956.

The closet race was between Mrs. Rose O'Neill and newcomer Ralph George for the council's district 4. Mrs. O'Neill came in with 459 votes to George's 429.

Selah Chamberlain Jr. was solidly endorsed with 527 for district 6, with new candidate B. Heinz Gundel trailing with 361 votes. For uncontested seats, incumbent Fredrick Hawkins gained the largest vote with 853 for district 2, and Richard E. Wedekind was put back in the treasurer's seat with 771 votes.

Sunny skies brought out 903 of the town's 2013 registered voters to ballot at two polling places, the multi-use room of the Woodside School and the Woodside Village Church. Sixteen absentee ballots figured in the total.

Woodside's Mayor William Lowe remarked: "Naturally, we on the council are well pleased with the returns and consider them a definite vote of confidence."

However, the Woodside Volunteers for Representative Government, citizens group endorsing the defeated George and Gundel, had a different view.

A spokesman said: "At least the close race between Mrs. O'Neill and George indicates that there is some dissatisfaction and that the council had better take a more realistic attitude toward problems now facing the town."

The volunteers group said it will abide by the voter decision and cooperate with the council—but that it fully intends to continue its activities in behalf of more representative government.

Saturday at 11:

Officials Mark Boys Club Construction Start Here

A spadeful of earth will symbolize the start of Menlo Park Boys Club construction at Ivy Drive and Market Place in Belle Haven Saturday at 11 a.m.

Taking turns with the shovel will be Menlo Park Mayor William R. Lawson, contractor L. C. Smith, and Henry P. Schwab, president of the San Mateo County Building Trades Council.

The $100,000 building will rise at this location with most of the time and material being contributed by labor and construction firms. Smith will handle construction details.

Charles Horton, Boys Club board of directors member, said that invitations have been sent to Menlo Park City Council and planning commission members, and to the county board of supervisors.

Representatives will attend from area service clubs, the Boys Club, and Youth Haven, the Belle Haven group which originated a youth center proposal a number of years ago that eventually developed into the Boys Club project.

The building will contain a gymnasium, arts and crafts area, shops, a game room, library, locker room, meeting room — all under the supervision of a trained full-time leader. It's expected that 1,000 boys will use the facility.

Horton said that the Boys Club of America is contributing $10,000 to help defray first-year operating costs.

Financial support from the Menlo Park Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, Youth Haven, and a number of individuals already has been received. And a drive for operating funds will begin shortly in this area.

The Boys Club has applied for United Crusade support, Horton said, but does not expect to receive Crusade funds for three years, even if the Crusade approves the application.

The club applied last September for United Crusade consideration and made another application to the San Mateo Community Council in October for establishment of a study committee to determine eligibility and feasibility.

This committee should be able to report during April or May, according to Philip Morse ,the chairman.

Serving on the group are Bernard Finklestein, Community Council executive director; Charles Kelly, Mrs. Rae Caplan, Mrs. Clifford Totman, Albert Horn, Charles Blair, Dr. Ray Rucker, Ralph McKee and William Goggin. Two Boys Club board members, Karl Clark and Leon Cook, are ex-officio committeemen.

Morse said the committee report will "try to shed light on how United Crusade money can be spent most efficiently and where the Boys Club fits into this overall pattern."

He promised that the committeemen have gone into the study "with no pre-conceived ideas . . . I believe all of them are open-minded and have the best interests of the community at heart."

The San Mateo Community Council is essentially the "planning" are of the local Unit Crusade. This is where the studies and recommendations concerning Crusade fund disbursement are made, Morse said.

Driver Near Death Tuesday After Pileup

Oliver Greene, 26, 1313 Willow Road, Menlo Park, was reported to be in improved condition Wednesday morning after surviving what one person described as "the worst accident I've ever seen."

Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital authorities placed Greene in the intensive care ward with critical head injuries Monday night. His condition appeared to improve by Wednesday.

Contents of a vial of powdery substance found near the wreckage in East Palo Alto were being examined this week by laboratory technicians.

Greene's car literally came apart when he drove it into a parked car at Weeks and Pulgas streets. The car slammed into four other parked vehicles and came to rest against a girder at Borrmann Steel Co.

Green, found 25 feet from the wreckage, suffered a basal-skull fracture and severe brain damage.

Highway Patrolman Dale Krings estimated Greene was driving at 90 miles per hour when he apparently lost control of the car.

Wreckage was strewn for three-tenths of a mile.

Cahn, Smith Nab B. of A. Zone Honors

Local students Robert Cahn and Tarney Smith nabbed two of the four top spots in zone competition for the annual Bank of America high school achievement awards program.

And four other area high schoolers also shared in the honors announced Tuesday.

Cahn, Menlo-Atherton High student, rated highest of all competitors in the science and mathematics field.

Miss Smith had the top score in the liberal arts competition She's from Woodside High.

They'll join Lewis Hayler of Carlmont (fine arts) and Sharon Tognola of Sequoia High (vocational arts), the other zone winners, in the area finals.

Also scoring well in the zone competition were second-place winners Diana Brecker of Menlo-Atherton (fine arts), and Christina Arimoto, Woodside (vocational arts). Both received $50 awards.

Carol Hanbery of Menlo-Atherton placed third in liberal arts and received a $25 prize.

Firemen Seek Cause of Fire At College

Firemen this week were investigating a blaze which Tuesday night did an estimated $2500 damage at Howard Hall, Menlo College campus.

The blaze, according to Deputy Chief Edwin Wickstrom, was found in a room occupied by Lee Swagert, who was attending a navy reserve meeting at the time it was discovered at 9:37 p.m.

Chief Wickstrom added that there was evidence that loose paper had been scattered around the floor of the room, which is on the second floor of the hall.

Firemen had to use special breathing gear in order to enter the room.

Four pieces of apparatus responded to the call, in view of the fact that a major structure might have become involved.

Damage to the building was estimated at $2000; damage to contents at $500.

IN THE CAPITAL

Finley Gibbs and Robert Stanton, both residents of Atherton, were among recent visitors at the Washington offices of Congressman J. Arthur Younger.

'Classified Ads Pull,' Patrons Agree

Regular users and people advertising in them for the first time this week agreed that the classified advertisements in the Menlo Park Recorder, Buy Word and Ravenswood Post really do the job.

Take Mrs. R. C., for instance. She ran her "first ever" classified ad in the April 5 issue of the Recorded. It read:

26" Girls bike, good cond., $14. EM———.

That's all it said. But, Mrs. R. C. reports, that was enough to get more than a dozen telephone calls, resulting in the sale of the machine.

Long-time customer Mrs. Mrs. P. C. knows the effectiveness of ads in the classified section from long experience. She uses them not only to sell minor household items, but expensive machinery.

Consider her ad published April 5. It read:

Rototiller, good condition, $85. EM———.

Response was rapid, she says. She sold it to the first person to call, then counted five other telephoned inquiries about the device.

The continuous pulling power of the ads was attested this week by Mrs. J. R. She says she ran two ads in the same April 5 "miscellaneous f or sale" column, in order to sell some household items and kitchen appliances. Calls continued to come, she said, until Monday.

It's not necessary to place lots of ads in the paper, though, to get good results. Each classified ad goes into more than 20,000 homes, right here in the Menlo Park area.

If you've got something to sell, buy or trade, call the Recorder classified, DA 6-5580.

DRIER 'SHORTS'

A clothes drier at 1440 Bay Laurel Drive short circuited at 8:15 a.m. April 6, resulting in a call to firemen.

At Menlo-Atherton:

High School Readies Concert For Tomorrow Evening Here

Friday at 8 p.m. in the 'J' Building at Menlo-Atherton High School, the music department will present its Eleventh Annual Spring Concert. The performing groups are the band, led by Mr. William Cargile, the orchestra under the direction of Robert Becker, and the Girls' Chorus and a capella which are led by Douglas Stobie.

Tickets will be sold at the door. The money will be used by the music department for awards that are given to the students for their participation in musical events.

Under Mr. Becker the orchestra will play Fanfare and Rondo, Rosamunde Overture by Schubert, The Andalusia Suite, Exodus, and Flute Cocktail, a novelty number for five flutes.

Led by Cargile, the band will play The National Emblem March, Gippsland, Bolero, Niobe, a Civil War Rhapsody, and selections from Showboat.

Stobie leads the girls chorus with Clouds, Inch Worm, and Wish I Was. He also directs the a capella choir with Sheep and Lambs, Roots and Leaves, and Comin' Through the Rye which is an old folk tune.

The featured work for the evening will be a "West Side Story" medley which will be sung by the a capella choir. "West Side Story" is a musical by Leonard Bernstein and it includes such songs as "I Feel Pretty", "Tonight", "Maria", and "One Hand, One Heart".

Freeway Route Gets Attention Of Planners

Some discussion of the state-proposed "MALE" freeway route in Menlo Park is scheduled for the Menlo Park planning commission's regular monthly informal meeting, to be held next Monday night.

The meeting will also feature reorganization of the commission; new officers of it are to be elected.

City Planner Bob Gray recalls that the planners recommended against a freeway in Menlo Park, when asked for their opinion. Their opinion was forwarded to the city council.

Other items to be taken up Monday night include discussion of regulations in the city's industrial zone and discussion of plans for apartments in two "islands" in the middle of the Sharon Heights golf course.

Developers of the latter area want to get some preliminary grading done before the golf course opens later this summer.

They'll discuss eventual layout of apartment houses with the planners.

Schools Here Schedule 'Open Houses'

The fiv elementary schools of the Menlo Park City School District will observe Public Schools Week from April 16 to 19. School faculties will welcome visitors into the classrooms at any time during the four-day period.

Each school has scheduled the week's activities to reflect the studies completed during the year. Parents are urged to visit their children's classes to view the projects and observe lessons.

Encinal School children will send personal invitations to parents to observe the various lessons throughout the week. A Science Fair display will be open from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. on April 16.

Fremont School children will invite parents to see lessons during their school day, also. An evening open house will be held between 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. on April 16.

Hillview School open house will also be during the evening of April 16. All rooms will be open from 7:30 p.m. to 8:15 p.m.; then parents will adjourn to the multipurpose room to observe a special program consisting of student choral groups, tumbling remonstations and science exhibits.

Laurel School will hold its open house on April 19 between 7:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. There will be science demonstrations in each classroom by students.

Open house at Oak Knoll School will be held on the evening of April 18, from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. All classes will be open for parents and students to examine the displays and curriculum materials. Science projects may be viewed in the multipurpose room. There will be a physical education demonstration and a choral group will perform.

Third Time 'Round:

Woodsider Planners Again Hear Appeal for Gas Station

The Woodside Planning Commission this week fell heir for the third time to Mrs. Adele Cummings' long-standing gas station appeal.

Woodside councilmen Monday night voted 6-0 to refer the rezoning request to the commission because of new evidence presented them by Mrs. Cummings' attorney, John Griffiths.

The "evidence" is Griffiths' contention that the Cummings property can now connect with a sewer line, his argument that there has been little progress on the town center study, and the possibility of the future widening of Woodside Road to four lanes.

Mrs. Cummings' request to locate the town's Standard Oil station on her Our Hill property has been stymied because of its tie-in with the town center plan.

Her request, first submitted to the planners in November, 1960, asks rezoning of .607 acres of her property from residential to commercial. She also is seeking a conditional use permit to relocate the gas station on her land.

Only one councilman, Charles Wheeler, supported Mrs. Cummings' proposal, stating that he felt the property was "well suited" as a service station site.

Whatever the planners decide, Mrs. Cummings' appeal will be turned back to the council for final action.

In other business, the council:

—Decided to put a proposed $35,000 project to upgrade roads in Woodside Oaks No. 2 in the hands of a study committee composed of councilmen and residents of the subdivision area.

The council expressed surprise at an engineer's report that estimates $15,000 will be needed to repair the roads and suggests that an additional $20,000 be set aside for adding 1½ inches of surface material to the improved streets.

The roads in question are Patrol Road, Entrance Way, Patrol Court, Roan Place and Pinto Way.

—Read a petition from 54 north Woodside residents protesting the proposed location of the A Street Interchange on the Junipero Serra Freeway.

—Delayed action on a resolution consenting to the annexation designated Edgewood N. 1 by Redwood City.

Sierra Firm Gets Air Force Job

DAYTON, Ohio (Special) — The Air Force has awarded a $218,037.94 contract to Sierra Electrical Corporation, Division of Philco Corporation, 3885 Bohannon Drive, Menlo Park, Dayton Air Force Depot cilmen last week.

The contract was awarded for 742 transistor test sets and applicable technical publication requirements. These test sets are used for checking out transistors without removing them from the circuit. This was a negotiated procurement.

Awards of major Air Force contracts are made by the Air Force Logistics Command, Dayton Air Force Depot, as part of its activities as the worldwide procurement, supply and maintenance source for the Air Force. Subcontracting will be accomplished by the contractor.

Atherton Reelects Trio — Small Vote

New 4-year terms were made official for unopposed Atherton Town Council incumbents Henry A. McMicking, John Licata and Edward L. Turkington Tuesday.

Election day might as well have not happened for most Atherton voters. Only 306 of the 4020 total turned out.

That's about seven and a half per cent, standard operating procedure in Atherton when there's no-contest election, city administrator Howard Boren commented.

McMicking proved to be a touch more popular with 287 votes. Licata was next with 276. Turkington polled 275.

There were "eight or 10" scattered write-in votes, Boren said.

Two-Year Delay:

Army May Change Ladera Dam Plan After New Setback

The controversial Ladera Dam project has been delayed at least two years and perhaps permanently, Rep. J. Arthur Younger (R.-San Mateo) advised local and Stanford University officials this week.

Following a review by the Department of the Army of a survey report on the project, the Corps of Engineers has indicated it will make further studies of alternatives to the multi-million dollar project.

"I'm very pleased with the news of further study," said Menlo Park's Mayor William Lawson, who reiterated his opposition to the project's "overdesign." Mayor William Lowe, speaking for Woodside, said he is "extremely gratified" by the decision to take a new look at the subject of flood control.

The new development means that the dam will not be included in the omnibus authorization bill in Congress this year, according to Younger.

The $8.4 million project has not yet been sent to Governor Brown, either, for his approval.

Projects proposed by the Corps of Engineers must be approved by appropriate Federal and State agencies before they are submitted to Congress.

"This provides an opportunity for the concerned communities—Woodside, Menlo Park, Stanford, Palo Alto and San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties—to work out a truly feasible solution to the flood control problems along San Francisquito Creek," commented Menlo Park City Manager John Johnson.

"We welcome the opportunity to work with these communities and the army in the best interests of the surrounding area."

As a timely follow-up, Stanford University officials yesterday conducted a bus tour of the proposed Ladera Dam area for Santa Clara and San Mateo County officials and local municipal leaders. The morning field trip in which the Stanford floor control plan was explained was capped with a luncheon at the Pioneer Hotel in Woodside.

Portolans Will Vote On Sewers

Voters in Portola Valley's Brookside Park, Brookside Orchards and Willowbrook subdivisions will decide Tuesday, May 1, on making their areas part of the Menlo Park Sanitary District.

The special annexation election will be held at the Portola Valley Fire Station, 179 Portola Road, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. A simple majority will pass the proposal.

Homeowners will pay $625 an acre plus $115 per house for annexation and connection to the trunk line if the area is annexed, according to Cedric Webster, manager of the sanitary district. Webster said he forefees little if any opposition to the proposal.

The area involved includes 200 registered voters.

Dr. Cary Weisiger:

Menlo Park Reverend 'Senses Will to Fight' in Berlin

FRANKFURT, Germany (Special, Delayed) — "In Berlin I sensed a tremendous firmness and a will to fight if we are crowded to the wall," asserted Dr. Cary N. Weisiger March 28, before jetting home from Frankfurt to his Menlo Park, Calif., pastorate.

He wound up a two-week tour of "Protestant Men of the Chapel" spring rallies in 12 German cities Tuesday night in the Frankfurt Post chapel with a banquet for 250 people, including V Corps Chief of Staff Brig. Gen. Frank T. Mildren.

"I found visiting Berlin a deeply stirring experience as I was taken to those dismal places along the northern part where the windows and doorways have been sealed up by bricks to prevent people from coming over into the West. You sense there the suppressed emotion.

"You see people waving to friends and loved ones across that Wall of Shame. You have a lump in your throat and an ache in your heart, and you feel that one of the most important things we can do today is to pray for the healing of Germany, the healing of Europe, and the healing of the world," said Dr. Weisiger.

At the Berlin rally, he was introduced by Allan E. Lightner Jr., Assistant Chief of U.S. diplomatic mission there. Lightner was a year ahead when the two men were at Princeton. This was their first reunion.

The Presbyterian churchman addressed nearly 4000 officers and enlisted men in his visits to Baumholder, Kaiserlautern, Spangdahlem Air Base, Bremerhaven, Wiesbaden, Heidelberg, Hanau, Wuerzburg, Fulda, Giessen, Frankfurt and Berlin.

"I wish every Protestant minister, in fact every American could have what I have just had. I have been deeply impressed by the readiness of our Armed Forces here in Europe to take a stand for what we believe to be right in this terrible and delicate tension in which we find ourselves," said Dr. Weisiger.

'IMPRESSED'

He was also impressed by "the provision our government makes in the military for the religious motivation of our troops. I think the coverage is excellent, at least for those who want any religious care."

Turning to the inter-denominational Protestant Men of the Chapel, the minister marveled, "In two weeks I didn't hear anybody boast about his particular denomination. In fact, most of the time I didn't know what the denominational affiliations were of the chaplains or the men whom I met. There is a very fine spirit of cooperation."

He expressed thanks for what he called his "VIP treatment." " I have not been so arrogant as to think that this came to me because I deserved, but I have regarded ot and accepted it as a sincere expression of the finest traditions of military courtesy," he added.

While here he met with USAREUR commander Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, of whom he commented, "I can sense the power of his leadership emanating down into our Armed Forces in this area." He also met with Maj. Gen. Christian Clark, European PMOC president and CENTAG chief of staff, Berlin garrison commander Brig. Gen. Frederick O. Hartel; Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, chief of the U.S. Berlin Mission, and Lt. Gen. John K. Waters, V Corps CG.

Dr. Weisiger was shepherded through most of his tour by Col. David S. Daley, North German PMOC president and V Corps deputy chief of staff. The two are friends of twenty years standing, and Col. Daley was Dr. Weisiger's parishioner in Augusta, Ga.

ELECTION CANVASS

Atherton Town Council will meet Tuesday, April 17, at 8 p.m. in a special session in the town hall to canvass the April 10 municipal election, as required by law. This will be the only business to be taken up at this meeting. The regular monthly meeting will be Monday, April 30.

Atherton Cops Have Suspect In Burglaries

Atherton police have filed burglary charges against a San Francisco man captured in a speed chase in Hillsborough early Tuesday and, Chief Leroy Hubbard said yesterday, the arrest may clear up four Atherton raids heretofore unsolved.

James G. Peters, 28, of San Francisco, was arrested after his car crashed into two parked vehicles and exploded into flames in Burlingame. The car was identified as one seen in the vicinity of the four Lindenwood homes which were raided on more than one date in Lindenwood within the last month.

With Peters, who is a parole violator according to the chief, at the time of his arrest was one Helen M. Masters. The woman had been given as a gift from Peters, a clock radio "definitely identified" as having come from one of the Atherton homes, Hubbard said.

The Hillsborough police have charged Peters with burglary also.

The suspect suffered cuts and bruises when his auto crashed.

Demo Candidate Names Aide For Campaign

Don Barr, Democratic candidate for the 26th Assembly District, announces the appointment of Mrs. Dree McCament of Menlo Park as social chairman for his campaign.

Mrs. McCament is a former social secretary to the Turkish ambassador in Washington, D.C. Working with the United Nations in Washington and in New York, she was active with "Americans for Democratic Action" while living in Washington.

Mrs. McCament is a graduate of McGill University in Montreal, Canada, where she majored in political science. Her husband, James, an ex-Marine officer, is executive vice president of Schaeffer, Lowe, and McCament in San Francisco.

The McCaments have one daughter, Megan, four years old. Mrs. McCament is presently serving as treasurer of the Parents' Nursery School in Palo Alto, and is also a member of the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art.

Auto Hits Pole, Woman Injured

On woman was injured Monday afternoon when the car in which she was riding struck a light pole, on Willow Road at Middlefield.

Injured was Esther Kland, 64, of Buringame. She was a passenger in an auto driven by Corinne Parker, 67, also of Burlingame. Mrs. Parker told police she was eastbound on Willow, and was preparing to stop for traffic ahead when her brakes failed to hold.

She said she steered into the light pole rather than into cars stopped ahead of her.

Mrs. Klanda apparently suffered bruises and abrasions, police said.

Ravenswood Board Acts:

School Boundaries Changed

It's official — Ravenswood City School District school boundaries have been changed in accordance with recommendations by Supt. of Schools Roderic V. Moore.

Trustees approved a policy Monday night that incorporated the changes.

And, for the first time at a public meeting, they encountered some public resistance.

Residents of the Flood School area were the most persistent questioners.

One man said he did not feel "it was entirely right for the board to act on this policy when people have not had an opportunity to read it."

Wesley Pomeroy, board chairman, recounted the history of the boundary study, including formation of a study committee representing every school area.

The board had received some indications of discontent and made evaluations of them, Pomeroy said. But "we could keep on talking and eventually reach the point where the public might feel we are vacillating," he said.

"It is the board's duty to make decisions which they feel will best serve the community. We could not ever please everyone," Pomeroy said.

Now that the action has been taken, all means will be used to discusss the plan with citizens in the various school areas, he said. Board members are available for talks before groups large and small.

Trustee Richard Abbott noted that the board has been considering the superintendent's recommendations for six weeks and that several board meetings have been held where protests could have been made.

Trustee Dr. Andrew White said the PTA coordinating committee had been informed and Moore noted that pretty thorough coverage had been given via newspapers and various meetings.

Discussion of school district budgeting and presentation of salary requests by certificated and classified personnel were also spotlighted Monday night.

The certificated salary requests, presented by Lester Robertson of the local CTA chapter, would cost the district $94,000 next fiscal year if accepted as they are, Moore said.

Salary boosts for classified personnel, outlined by Ted Miller, president of the California State Employees Assn. chapter here, would increase this cost by $32,000 as currently proposed. Moore added.

The superintendent said he'd have his recommendations on salaries prepared on Monday, April 23. At the May 28 meeting, the rest of the 1962-63 budget would be presented, based on the salary decisions.

Moore also reported that he's held discussions with San Mateo County authorities on the controversial land swap proposal between San Mateo and Santa Clara counties.

The Palo Alto airport now contributes $10,000 yearly to the various San Mateo districts in which is now is located, Moore said. Exact dollar income for the Ravenswood district could not be determined.

Trustee Mrs. Charlotte Roden said she was sure that high school district and Ravenswood district tax income would make up 90 per cent of that $10,000.

"We will be losing money here," she said."There are no children coming into the district from this area so this money is a clear gain right now. We should move cautiously before giving any support to this."

Pomeroy asked Moore to find out if (1) the airport can remain in the Ravenswood district if it goes to Santa Clara County and (2) if school district boundaries can be changed by fiat of the county supervisors involved without district residents having a voice in the matter.

Moore said he will continue the investigation.

The superintendent also asked some assistance from the board in his budget planning. Indications are that there'll be a budget deficit but Moore said he wants to keep it as small as possible.

He said he would aim for keeping reserves above the $500,000 mark if this was acceptable to the board.

Trustees noted that this was the fiscal year when it was anticipated that deficit spending must begin under the five-year tax plan and agreed that a half-million reserve sounded good.

The school board also granted tenure to 21 district teachers. And they received without official comment a resolution from the Redwood City Schol District which protested school district reorganization committee studies which mention tying the two districts together.

Colonel Morrison:

Army Engineer Issues Rebuttal Against Ladera Dam Protests

With Stanford University and Menlo Park city officials mustering arguments against the proposed Ladera dam, Colonel John A. Morrison, San Francisco District Army Engineer, last week summarized some of his own.

Stanford engineers claim that the lake behind the dam at some times may cover more than 500 acres with water; they maintain that the flood control which would be achieved by it could be obtained at less cost and with less conspicuous installations.

Menlo Park city council, along with Stanford, has gone on record as not favoring the dam proposal.

In a letter sent out last week, Col. Morrison listed the following points in favor of the proposed earth-fill dam:

"Annual benefits from construction of the dam exceed annual costs over a 50 year period by 50 per cent. A return of almost $30,000,000, including flood damage prevented and water conserved, would be realized at that time.

"If recreational development were included," Col. Morrison added, "this amount wuold be increased to $37,000,000."

Col. Morrison also took issue with alternate plans for developing flood control along the creek:

"Channel improvements to furnish the same amount of flood protection would require extensive rights of way and modifications to numerous bridges and would be, for this reason, economically unjustified," he said. "Negotiations would be required involving 150 properties from which 25 homes would have to be moved."

COMPATIBLE

Development of the reservoir would be fully compatible with Stanford's linear accelerator development, Col. Morrison said, quoting W. K. H. Panofsky, linear accelerator project director, to that effect.

However, he added, building the dam as proposed by the army would increase construction cost of the $114,000,000 atomic research tool by about $200,000.

Stanford administrators in the past have noted that the reservoir in back of the proposed dam would cut into their Jasper Ridge Biological experimental reserve, which now includes, in a small area, a relatively large number of life forms and other resources for study.

In his rebuttal, Col. Morrison states:

"The reservoir will take 32 acres of land from the 735-acre Jasper Ridge area when water storage reaches the top of combined flood control and water conservation pools. More than 95 per cent of the area would remain untouched."

The reservoir's gross capacity would be 12,600 acre-feet, of which 8500 acre feet would be reserved for flood control, 3500 acre-feet for water storage, and 600 acre-feet for the accumulation of silt.

"The flood storage feature," said the colonel, "would have reduced the 1955 flows from a peak of 5560 cubic feet per second to 2000 cubic feet per second at the Stanford University gauging station."

He added that even so, the dam if completed would not protect completely against the maximum probable flood. The latter estimate is based on the weather bureau's estimate of the maximum amount of rain which would be likely to fall in a 24-hour period.

SEES DANGER

Col. Morrison noted that increased economic development of the region, with consequent increase in population, reduces the area which absorbs rainfall and increases the runoff and flood danger. Each new home in the area adds to the flood danger, he said.

Concerning recreation, Col. Morrison adds:

"The National Park Service estimates that the lake would afford recreation for 100,000 people a year, and recommends providing a parking area, potable water, sanitary facilities, fencing, tree-planting, and launching facilities for small boats.

"No motor boats should be allowed, according to the park service's recommendations."

Measles Score Reported Up In Menlo Park

A mild outbreak of measles in the south county was indicated this month with the county health and welfare department's regular monthly report showing that 17 cases of the malady were found here during March.

Many cases of minor childhood diseases aren't usually reported by doctors, either, officials of the department add. So there may be more cases.

Also for Menlo Park during March, the health and welfare department reported there were five incidences of chicken pox, two cases of German measles, three of gonorrhea, eight streptoccocal infections and two cases each of syphilis and tnuberculosis found.

East Palo Alto reported four cases of measles, two cases each of chicken pox and infectious hepatitis, and one case each of gonorrhea, mumps and syphilis.

Woodside reported two strep infections and one case each of measles and mumps.

In Atherton, doctors reported incidences of one case each of chicken pox and mumps and four new cases of strep infection during the month.

L. Lowe Gets Commission

LACKLAND AFB, Texas (Special(—Lawson Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lowe of 45 Frederick Ave. in Atherton, has been commissioned a second lieutenant on the United States Air Force upon graduation from officers' training school here.

The lieutenant is to be assigned to Amarillo Air Force Base, Tex., for duty as an administrative officer.

A 1957 graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School and a 1961 graduate of Stanford, Lt. Lowe currently is home on leave. He was a member of Theta Chi fraternity at Stanford.

'Hour of Sharing' Set at Church

"One Great Hour of Sharing", the Lenten Protestant program will come to fruition this Sunday, April 15, at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church when church go-ers will present sacrificial offerings to help unfortunate people the world over.

Church school children will turn in Church banks while parents and adults will present envelopes.

Police to Get Portable Radio Units

Menlo Park police department currently is inspecting several models of "walkie-talkie" units, Police Chief George Potter said this week. Purchase of three of the portable units is expected within a short time.

The radio transmitter-receiver units will be used by the department's downtown patrolmen, and for investigations.

The units will broadcast on a frequency which can be received at the police station, as well as by mobile units and other walkie-talkies.

The use of one of the instruments in the downtown area will increase efficiency, especially of night patrols, Chief Potter explains.

Heretofore, it has been necessary to send a patrol car along with the night patrolman who checks the doors of business houses, in case a door is found open and the police want reinforcements before going inside.

With the new instruments, the department's "door check" patrolman will be able to proceed by himself, and the patrol car assigned to the downtown area can continue on patrol unless called on to help him.

Other walkie-talkie units will be held in reserve, and will be used for investigations, stakeouts and the like, where police want to stay in contact with each other while watching a specific area.

There are several makes of such radios available, Potter said. All are light enough to be carried easily by patrolmen afoot.

Easter Art Display Set

An outdoor art exhibit will augment Palm Sunday services at the Ladera Community Church from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Featured will be work done by Ruth M. Moore of Menlo Park and Marylee Stanley of Los Altos Hills, both members of Gallery House in Ladera.

Miss Moore's paintings will include figure portraits and landscapes in oil, two collages, and a Madonna of the Palms, done on batik. Miss Stanley's mosaic depicts the Madonna and Child.

To be seen in the sanctuary will be a bronze sculpture, "The Mendicant," and a candle holder cast in bronze by A. G. Van Kleeck of Berkeley. Miss Van Kleeck had a one-man show in Venice, Italy, in 1960 of her bronzes while she was studying there.

The public is invited to attend the second annual art event at the Easter season.

Classroom Seders Set

Students of the Religious School of Temple Beth Jacob will participate in individual classroom Seders in observance of the forthcoming Passover holiday which begins the evening of April 18. The classroom Sedarim will be held on Sunday morning, April 15, during the regular sessions of the school.

Ducats on Hand For Passover

In Portola Valley:

Planners Pursue Rest Home Studies Despite Protests

Question of the feasibility of a third convalescent home in Portola Valley is back in the lap of the San Mateo County Planning Commission this week despite loud protests from several hundred Valley residents.

County supervisors last week requested the commission to again study the rest home proposal — but this time with a watered down request for 95 beds. The original proposal sought a 202-bed building at the corner of Alpine Road and Hillbrook Drive .

Supervisors also asked the commission to review the area planning for such institutions. No time limit was put on the study, which will include opinions on standards for such homes and their location.

"Last week's decision is very disappointing to us," said Dr. Nevin K. Hiester, president of the Portola Valley Association. The association is a civic improvement group strongly against the venture, especially in view of the proximity of two rest homes already approved by the county. The latter are buildings planned for the Louis Gambetta and La Casa Blanca properties in the vicinity of the Alpine-Portola Road junction.

Dr. Hiester said more than 300 valley residents signed a petition opposing the Hillbrook proposal, the brainchild of two San Francisco physicians, Drs. Mortimer Weiss and Ralph Gold. The petition was presented to the supervisors before their latest action.

The Portola Valley Association is concerned, Dr. Hiester explained, with the apparent trend toward locating institutions for elderly people in the valley. He said his group is especially against the Hillbrook proposal because its site is part of a section already subdivided for homes.

Four Injured In Auto Crash On Alpine Rd.

Four persons in two cars were injured early Sunday morning in a collision on Alpine Road near Santa Cruz Avenue.

The driver of one of the autos involved in the near head-on crash said he was blinded by the lights of the other vehicle.

Injured were:

Noel John Fenton, 23-year-old Stanford student who resides in Palo Alto. He was eastbound on Alpine and suffered a cut tongue.

Elizabeth Ann Hayden, 23, of San Francisco, a passenger in Fenton's car. She suffered facial fractures and consusions.

Rolph Dyce, driver of the westbound car involved. A 32-year-old Stanford Research Institute employee who resides at 131 Gabardia Way in Ladera, he complained of headaches and says he also suffered abrasions of the right leg.

Ned F. McKee, of Glendora, another passenger. His injuries were not known but were presumed to be minor, police said.

The accident was reported at 2:36 a.m., according to police.

Dyce said he'd just turned onto Alpine Road from Sand Hill when the collision occurred.

Fenton said he was blinded by the lights of Dyce's auto.

Private Couch Awarded Wings

Private Sam Couch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Couch of 1975 Oak Ave., has been awarded his wings as an airborne infantryman at Fort Benning, Ga., it has been announced.

He has been assigned to the 87th Airborne Division at Fort Bragg.

A 1960 graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School, Pvt. Couch attended Menlo College before entering the service.

Woodman Hits Amendments

The Redwood City Democratic Club adopted the position Dennis L. Woodman, Ladera, candidate for the 26th Assembly District, by condemning the dangers contained within the proposed Louis Francis amendments, at its meeting this last week.

Woodman, the Redwod City lawyer, noting that the proposed constitutional amendment allowed any county grand jury to label an individual or organization as being subversive, pointed out that grand juries in California are appointive by the Judiciary and are not elective.

Ravenswood Sets Summer School Signup Saturday

Ravenswood City School District residents living west of Bayshore Highway will be able to send first through seventh grade students to summer school—but only if they register them soon.

The only registration dates will be next Saturday, and Saturday, April 21.

The summer classes for the west-of-Bayshore area will be housed in Willow/Menlo Oaks School rooms. Willow School is the registration site.

Philip Smith, assistant superintendent, emphasized that failure to register children on the upcoming Saturdays will mean they can't attend summer school.

Other information about summer school can be had by telephoning Willow School at DAvenport 2-9450 or the main office, DAvenport 4-1621.

Younger Has Campaign Head

Appointment of Frank B. Ingersoll, Jr., Burlingame attorney, as chairman of the Younger Congressional Campaign Committee for 1962 elections was announced today by Congressman J. Arthur Younger from his Washington, D.C., office.

Ingersoll has served in the last two campaign for Younger and was a member of the San Mateo County Republican Central Committee for 15 years and chairman for 6 years.

Library Friends To Display Collections

Through the efforts of the Menlo Park Friends of the Library two interesting collections will be on exhibition in the lobby and lounge of the Menlo Park Library during the month of April.

The paintings of Ruth Knowlton, an interior decorator who in retirement found a new medium of expression, cover a wide range of subjects — landscapes, seascapes, mountains—all reflecting the areas in wheih the artist worked or visited.

Ruth Knowlton, the daughter of a pioneer, came to Colorado from Kansas at the age of two. She graduated from the Greeley Teachers College in 1901, where she majored in Arts and Crafts, and taught in the Colorado schools and in New Mexico. In 1929 she opened her own decorating workshop in San Francisco. She is a member of Menlo Park's Little House where she has continued her art studies in water and oil.

Visitors to the library will find in the lobby showcase an unusual and very old collection of Sheffield silver plate. Mrs. Hayes, "Friends" chairman, stated that most of the pieces have been in the families of the owners for generations, and that no piece is under 70 years old.

The collection includes candlesticks, tea pots, porringers, salt dishes and a variety of serving dishes and trays.

The Friends of the Library is a volunteer organization whose purpose is to stimulate interest in the needs, services and facilities of the Menlo Park Library through a program of library-centered activities.

As We See It:

A Contested Election Is a Healthy Thing

The day after an election, editorial writers customarily call for a closing of the ranks behind the victors and speedy attention to the work ahead as directed by the majority of the voters.

Such comments haven't been called for as often as they should, in Menlo Park in the past few city elections, where there haven't been too many contested elections.

They're a little more appropriate today, however, because Tuesday's election was a contest. It was a good one; no candidate need feel that he was beaten too badly if that's the case, or that his majority was so overwhelming that he can be heedless, from now on, of various city problems and the opinions of the voters inferred at the polls.

That the issue of opposition to the proposed freeway through Menlo Park was a factor in the way people voted, few can doubt. That freeway proposal and the way the council deals with it, will be a factor influencing elections for many years to come.

What's indicated by the voters, we think, is that they want the city to take a strong stand against this proposed mutilation of the city of Menlo Park. Powerful interests favor it. It is only by taking such a stand that the city council can hope to keep the proposed monstrosity from becoming a fact.

The next few weeks should tell how the council is going to handle this one.

National Library Week A Good Time to Visit Them

National Library Week, April 8 to 14, currently is being observed in the 15 libraries of the San Mateo County Library system. However, county Librarian Miss Virginia Ross points out: This one week cannot be set apart from the other 51 weeks of the year as a special time to take note of good library service.

The staffs of the county's libraries endeavor daily to do an efficient and good job; they succeed in this endeavor, too.

More than a million books were borrowed by approximately 66,000 patrons of the county libraries during the past year, Miss Ross reports. To meet the public demand, an average of 1688 new titles are added monthly to the county's book collection. More than 1600 readers-aid and reference questions were handled during March at the central library alone.

Thus, Miss Ross concludes, no one can say that county residents are not making good use of their libraries.

Menlo Park, we like to think, has more than its share of those 66,000 library patrons from all parts of the county.

If you're not one of them, you should become one.

Meantime, if you're not in the habit of patronizing youur library, drop in some time and visit it. You'll be pleased, we think, with the quiet efficiency of the operation and will go away convinced that you're getting good value for your tax money.

As the Man Says — It Gives Us a Bad Name

We heartily agree with the following outburst of Larry Belanger, editor of the Placerville "Mountain Democrat." We therefore take this occasion to print his words as a guest editorial.

You'll pardon me for getting this off my chest, but I am compelled to put in my two sents worth about the way the Bay area dailies have been playing up REAL BIG all this tripe about Liz and Eddie and Vivien Leigh and her mate, Tony Somebody-or-other.

I don't know about YOU, but I'm full up to here with the hogwash they've been printing about those people. I couldn't care less about what the so-called movie stars are doing to get publicity, and it is rather offensive for me to see the Chronicle splashing banner headlines across the front page in type usually reserved for the end of the world saying that Liz is leaving Eddie or that Vivien and Tony have gone ph-t-t-t.

Maybe I'm wrong, but I don't think the news business needs to stoop to that level. To me featuring that kind of trash indicates the dailies are pretty hard put to decide what's important, or else that they have lost all sense of values. It doesn't seem to me that it's necessary to make a damb sob-sister Los Angeles scandal sheet out of what might be a good San Francisco newspaper if they left that junk out, or buried it somewhere inside where it belongs.

True, there may be some people who think what the movie colony is doing is of world-wide interest – but, as for me, I can get along just fine if they eliminate it entirely. I'm SICK of it. Who cares whether or not they are having marital difficulties or if they have a stomach ache? I can't believe that there is such a famine of news that they have to resort to this sort of thing. Making me kind of ashamed of being a newspaperman – I think this is the sort of thing that gives newspapers a bad name. (END OF COMPLAINT.)

TELLS US:

We didn't finish reading it, but on our desk their arrived recently a story, released from a screen products manufacturer, telling us that the greatest public health menace of all is the common house fly. The story, if run at the length received, would fill an entire column.

The scientists at the California Academy of Sciences are pretty exacting fellows but in reporting on the recent Bay Area science fair, they slipped up a little. They listed St. Joseph's School and the Convent of the Sacred Heart as being in Menlo Park.

They aren't. They're in Atherton, except where the postoffice is concerned.

* * *

The lads at the Atherton fire station at 32 Almendral Ave. recently reclaimed a somewhat battered wheelbarrow for use in their gardening work around the station. It's referred to as "Lieutenant Glassey's staff car."

Another thing we found out about the firemen: Their newer trucks don't have ignition keys in them. The older ones do, but it's going out of style.

The firemen speculate that young visitors who constantly tour the stations and climb aboard the fire trucks might, sometime, remove the key. And then where would we be?

Those who think that all you've got to do to keep school taxes down is to vote "no" every chance they get mig' well have a surprise in store for them, some day.

A blurb from the State Council of Education, policy-making body for the California Teachers' Association, is going to meet tomorrow at Asilomar and one of the topics on its agenda is:

"Studies now underway seeking a new approach for financing California public schools."

Maps of the proposed "MALE" freeway route were taken out of the city council chambers Tuesday, while the latter room was in use as a polling place. They were returned there yesterday.

Incidentally, if you want to see the maps but can't call at the council chambers except on Saturday, you can borrow a key to the building at the police station next door.

A progress report on the state of civilization herabouts comes from the division of labor statistics and research at the California Department of Industrial relations.

More occupied dwelling units in San Mateo county have television sets than have cars, according to Maurice I. Gershenson, chief of the division. And even the telephone is being edged out as the home's "most necessary" appliance.

Here's how the ratios go:

Ninety-three and a half percent of all occupied housing units have television sets; 16½ per cent have two or more sets.

Ninety-three per cent have telephones; 77 per cent have washing machines; 33 per cent have clothes dryers; 19 per cent have home freezers; 2 per cent have air conditioning; 92 per cent have automobiles; 36 per cent have two or more cars.

Yes, Virginia, there is an Easter bunny . . . but sometimes he's a bell.

According to one European legend, church bells, which do not ring from Good Friday to Easter, fly to Rome. On their way back, they drop eggs for children to find.

Bells have always been closely associated with religious observances, reports World Book Encyclopedia. Long before Christ, high priests of the Israelites wore bells as a protection against evil spirits. Since the 500's Christians have used bells to summon worshipers.

During the Middle Ages, bells were considered spiritual things. They received the blessing of a bishop and were washed with holy water — a custom popularly known as the baptism of the bell. The bishop prayed that the bell would summon the faithful to worship, drive away storms and frighten evil spirits.

Bells had other uses, too, such as announcing the curfew or calling attention to the notices of town criers. They warned of fires and called soldiers together.

In fact, the power of bells to rally people was so great that a conqueror freqpently melted down the bells of a town.

County Comment:

Questions About Airport Buy

By FLOYD F. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

The recent headlines that told of our county planning director severely criticizing the plan to buy the San Carlos Airport have been misinterpreted in several quarters.

Frank Skillman did propose to County Manager E. R. Stallings that "rational study" be made of the million-dollar-plus purchase before any definite action is taken. Stallings quickly agreed that such a study is needed and it is likely that the San Mateo County Development Association will probe the benefits and liabilities that the airport could bring under county ownership.

Skillman suggested the study, although the planning commission had previously recommended the purchase. The planning director said it should be determined definitely "whether the airport is worth as much to the county as we would have to pay for it."

He pointed out that the proposed investment of about $1,800,000—less a federal grant —would serve some 1000 county residents and from that angle the purchase may be hard to justify. He further pointed out that the small airports are valuable assets when located close to industry or commercial areas and the study should determine the value.

While Skillman may have questioned the purchase from several angles, his proposal for an exhaustive study was quickly accepted by the county officials as the best approach.

Even if the survey comes up with an overwhelming recommendation for purchase the county may not be able to swing the deal.

There just isn't that kind of money around and a bond issue may or may not be the answer.

In view of the present reluctance to approve bond issues, we can't see the airport purchase issue getting much support from any quarter, although we think the county will be making a mistake if it allows the land to be used for residential or other use.

Speaking of shortages of money, Stallings reports that the county probably will fall about $200,000 short of meeting even the lowest estimates for the first year sales tax is in effect.

The State Board of Equalization had estimated that the county would receive about $1,750,000 the first year. Stallings set the figure at $1,250,000 but this may be high. The county manager's latest on 1961-1962 income is $1,050,000.

There may be an adjustment upward when final figures are in, but no one expects the total to reach the manager's estimates, let alone the figure the state board had predicted. The lower net will not have an effect on the building program as it applies to this year but there may be some revising before the next budget is adopted.

Stallings said he was shooting for an April 15 date to have his preliminary budget figures ready for the board of supervisors so we won't have to wait long to see what the spending program will look like for the next fiscal year.

Supporters of the $2,900,000 bond issue are going to have to do a big job of selling between now and June 5. Already we hear rumblings of "too much now" regardless of the importance of adding more courtrooms and office space.

Despite the fact the bonds will be paid off with sales tax monies, the voters are not looking favorable to ANY bond issue.

The decision made in June undoubtedly will have a bearing on the proposed highway bond plan that is being considered for the November ballot. This issue of between $30 and $40 millions is probably the most sensible of them all.

Certainly the county must do something to improve its East-West highway program. The cities are crying for cash to improve through street to serve people from al lareas.

The preliminary report on the highway needs will be made known to the public April 17 when the Greater Highways Committee meets with the board of supervisors. Certainly this program, even if it costs $40 millions, will be cheaper than we would have to pay for "our" share of the district rapid transit plan.

While rapid train service must be considered a necessity in the future, grade separations and other improvements in the county program will correct many present faults. In the meantime county officials should start working with Southern Pacific leaders in trying to improve present commute service. Good as it is it can be better.

High School Rated 'Character'

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

April 9, 1937:

In order to establish a more thorough system of character rating at Sequoia High School, a new system of ratings is being inaugurated this month, according to Mr. Donald Bogie, dean of boys.

The purpose of the character ratings is twofold — first, to help develop character and personality in a student by pointing out to him his faults and, second, to give the school a basis on which to recommend students to colleges and business firms in addition to their scholastic abilities.

The plan is to have each student rated by his various teachers on his leadership, initiative, honesty and similar traits and qualities.

The scale was formulated by several Sequoia teachers and school leaders . . .

Municipal Report:

Little House Members Subject of New Study

STANFORD (Special)—Members of a community's "senior center" are usually citizens over 60 who tend to be joiners, possess "outgoing" personalities, and lead younger, happier and busier lives than most of their non-member contemporaries, according to a study made by Stanford University's Institute of Communication Research.

"They act younger longer," said Dr. Wilbur Schramm, who was in charge of the study. "Although it is hard to prove, the logical conclusion is that they also feel younger longer."

These were among the findings in a three-year study of Little House, a senior center located in Menlo Park for men and women 50 years of age and over. Nearly 1600 older citizens, both members and non-members, were interviewed.

Dr. Ruth T. Storey of Stanford, a psychologist, was resident study director. Prof. Ernest R. Hilgard headed an advisory committee consisting of Profs. Ray Faulkner, William Greulich, Edmund Volkart, and Dr. Philip Heersema and Neil K. White, all Stanford faculty members; Peninsula Volunteers Mrs. H. N. Kuechler Jr. and Mrs. A. M. G. Russell of Atherton, and Mrs. L. S. Rosener Jr. of Placerville; Elizabeth Statler of San Carlos, former executive director of Little House; and recreation specialist Josephine Randall of San Francisco.

Dr. Schramm, holder of the Janet M. Peck Professorship of International Communication at Stanford, is also director of the Institute of Communication Research. His study was carried out under a $50,000 grant from the Ford Foundation.

Little House members "have more hobbies, spend more time on mass media, and more often go to church than do comparable non-members," the investigators reported. "Whether Little House encourages a more active life or merely attracts more than its share of active older people, it is clear that membership makes it easier for older people to remain active.

"Furthermore, attitude studies show that more outgoing activity at later ages seems to correlate with feelings of greater happiness, greater usefulness, and less loneliness and withdrawal.

"The impressively high participation in Little House activities by members in their 75's and 80's shows that older people can keep on being interested and active when opportunities are available," they said.

"Little House members are more likely than non-members to say that retirement is welcome, that it provides an opportunity to do things they have long wanted to do, to get some fun out of life, and (for men) to get some relief from the strain of work.

"Members have a more positive attitude toward the years after 60. They are more likely to think of later years as the 'Indian Summer' of life.

"In the case of women, at least, non-members in the community report themselves significantly less happy after 65. There is no corresponding change in Little House members.

"With increasing age, on the other hand, an increasing proportion of Little House members report feeling more at home with younger groups."

The Menlo Park senior center, one of the first in the nation, appears to attract distinctly different members for distinctly different reasons. Some use it as a club and find satisfaction in serving on committees and attending social events.

Others use it primarily as an adult school and workshop for languages, writing, arts and crafts. Still others seem to value it as a source of recreation —for lectures, films, and sightseeing trips.

A fourth group uses the center primarily as a "dancing club."

Most members join during a critical period of their lives, the study found — following death of a spouse, separation from family, moving away from old friends, or retirement from work. At such times the individual looks around for new sources of companionship and activity.

Personal situations are of course an important factor in one's decision whether or not to join a senior center, the Stanford investigators said. Those able to afford luxuries, travel, and to maintain their former regimen seldom join. For those who live some distance from the center, lack of a car or other transportation becomes an important deterrent.

But perhaps the best predictor of membership, it was discovered, is the person's previous history of joining.

At 'Sunset' Office:

Photographer of Missions Visits Recipient of His Works Here

Henry P. Schmidt of San Diego, the photographer and donor of Sunset Magazine's newly acquired collection of California mission photographs, is a spry, 84-year-old who recently visited Sunset's Menlo Park headquarters.

Schmidt's visit to Menlo Park followed an exchange of letters between him and Martin Litton, Sunset travel editor, in which Schmidt offered his 75 photographs of the California missions from San Diego to Sonoma, taken between 1939 and 1941, to Sunset.

"I was looking for a home for them, and I couldn't think of any place I'd like to see them more," Schmidt said.

Neither could Sunset which considers these historic photographs — many of them taken before the restoration of the missions — a fine and valuable addition to its collection of Western memorabilia.

In appreciation of this gift, Sunset publisher L. W. (Bill) Lane Jr. invited Mr. Schmidt to be Sunset's guest for a four-day stay in this area so he could see his pictures on display and visit San Francisco — particularly Telegraph Hill where Schmidt was born in 1878, "just a stones' throw from the place where Coit Tower now stands."

After a luncheon in his honor at Sunset's headquarters, Schmidt busily photographed the gardens and building so that his wife, Morri, who was unable to accompany him, could share the trip with him.

Schmidt had many amusing experiences to tell about his years of photographing out-of-the-way places.

Laughingly, Schmidt insists that he has always been somewhat of a "nut" about photography. An enthusiastic camper and outdoorsman, he has recorded his many walking and pack trips up and down the Pacific coast with a camera. It was his interest in older things and ruins that led him to photograph his series of mission pictures.

Still an active outdoorsman at 84, Schmidt is looking forward to a camping trip in Monument Valley this May.

Scout Leaders Plan for Scout-O-Rama

A preview "round table" for San Mateo County Council Boy Scouts' 1962 edition of Scout-O-Rama will be held at the Fiesta building in the county fair grounds tonight, according to W. Alan Bonner, regional manager of Fisher Flouring Mills Co. and Scout-O-Rama chairman.

Leaders of more than 300 Packs, Troops, and Explorer units from throughout San Mateo county will gather to receive information and assistance that will help make this year's show—"Fit For Tomorrow"—the best yet produced.

The Scout-O-Rama is a "boy show" put on by Cubs, Scouts and Explorers with the help of their leaders. This year's show dates are May 25 and 26.

Tickets for the Scout-O-Rama go on sale May 1 and may be purchased from any Cub, Scout or Explorer.

Valley Center Plans Jazz Session Tonight

The second of a series of jazz workshops will be held at 7:30 tonight by the newly formed Portola Valley Community Center. The informal get-together will be in the new clubhouse of the Alpine Hills Swimming and Tennis Club, 4139 Alpine Road.

William Telfer, the workshop's director, said he's optimistic about the venture, which drew 18 musicians to its initial session last Wednesday. Telfer stressed the special need for reed instrument players.

The new center, now in process of incorporation, is preparing special membership cards for a membership drive next month.

RENDER FIRST AID

Firemen Tuesday morning gave emergency first aid to Leon D'Andrea, 43, of 232 Hedge Road, after he cut his right arm in a fall through a shower door. He was later treated by a private physician.

POWER LINE FALLS

Firemen stood by at 36 Jennings Lane Sunday night, after Atherton police reported a wire down at that address. Utility company repairmen finally arrived and restored the power. The firemen were called at 11:35 p.m.

Historical Paintings To Be Shown

A group of Rachel Bentley's history-related water colors has now been put on display at the County Historical Museum, featuring thre pioneer churches in the south county area — the small Trinity Episcopal chapel that has since been moved and remodeled, the small Presbyterian church which Mrs. Stanford attended, and the original St. Denis Catholic chapel near Searsville which was founded by Dennis Martin and consecrated in 1853 by Archbishop Alemany.

The St. Denis parish is now being revived.

Other interesting views in this group are the ancient gate that gave Menlo Park its name, the original Wells Fargo office in the town, the Fair Oaks railway station that in now Atherton, and a striking rural view along the old Sand Hill Road.

These paintings are a part of a collection temporarily loaned by Miss Susan Gale, Menlo Park historian, who commissioned their painting to preserve the appearance of the Menlo Park area as it was before the turn of the century.

The museum where these paintings may be seen is at Baldwin Avenue and San Mateo Drive in San Mateo and is open daily except Sunday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Sequoia High School District Reveals Summer Session Plan

Dr. Rex H. Turner, superintendent of Sequoia High School District, points out that registration is now under way for the 1962 Sequoia District Summer High School, which will be held from June 25 to Aug. 17.

All students now attending Sequoia District high schools who are planning to attend the summer session must register with their counselors.

Students from private high schools who live in the Sequoia District are eligible to attend and may secure application forms from summer school coordinators, who include, at Menlo-Atherton High School, Wilbur Fellows and at Woodside, Leonard Henard.

The coordinators are available for interviews and information between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. school days, at the schools.

Bona fide high school students, including entering freshmen, residing within the Sequoia Union High School District will be given preference. Applications of all other high school students will be held up until Monday, June 25, when such students may report to the school where the classes in which they are interested are scheduled to ascertain whether or not there are any vacancies.

Classes will be in session from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. Two-hour-per-day classes will cover only one semester's work during the eight-week period. Four hours-per-day classes will cover the first semester's work from June 25 to July 20, and the second semester's work from July 23 to Aug. 17.

A new state law requires that to be eligible to attend summer school, a parent or guardian must sign a statement that the student has received one or more Salk vaccine immunizations and will complete the total required within a calendar year, or claim exemption because such immunization is contrary to his or her belief.

Advance registration will close June 1, but early registration is highly recommended to assure students a place in the classes of choice, according to Dr. Turner.

County Health Department Sets Polio Shot Dates

Children who still need basic poliomyelitis immunization before the start of school may get their shots free at the Redwood City Health center of the county department of health and welfare, a spokesman for the department said this week.

The health center, at 500 Arguello St., will open tentatively for this purpose April 23 and May 7 and 28, from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m., for the giving of shots. The dates are still tentative, though, the spokesman said, and it would be well for parents to call the center, EM 8-3349, for verification before coming to get shots.

There will be no charge for the treatments. Children not accompanied by a legal parent must bring a letter of consent signed by a parent, to qualify for the immunization.

39th YEAR—No. 15 THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1962 PAGE 7

FINALLY . . . . . tying in a dead-heat in the 100 breaststroke, Menlo-Atherton's Bill Estes steamed in along with teammate Julian Krug in 1:11.7 to help the Bears to an easy 75-19 victory over Sequoia last week at the Sequoia pool.

Easter Tourney Starts Monday

A strong field and some very possible surprises should be the features of the fourth annual Menlo-Atherton Easter Baseball Tournament, coming next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 16, 17 and 18 to both Burgess and Flood parks.

Prospects for a well-balanced tournament are good, what with six South Peninsula Athletic League teams entered — Menlo-Atherton, Woodside, Cubberley, Palo Alto, San Carlos and Carlmont. Only Sequoia, the tournament champ in 1959 and 1960 and the defending SPAL co-champ, and Ravenswood from the local league aren't entered.

Since the SPAL is figured to be close all the way between everybody but Palo Alto and Ravenswood, but is in fact close for everybody but M-A and Woodside right now, one could assume that the tournament race to the finals could be a very bitterly contested race.

But much may depend on the two outside entries, Los Altos of the North Santa Clara Valley Athletic League and Lincoln High of San Francisco, the 1961 Easter tourney champion.

SCHEDULE

Opening round games Monday will have M-A meeting Lincoln at Burgess and Carlmont against Los Altos at Flood, both at 10:30 a.m.; and Cubberley playing Palo Alto at Burgess and Woodside meeting San Carlos at Flood, both at 2:30 p.m.

The two Flood winners will play at Burgess Tuesday at 10:30 a.m., with the two Burgess winners to meet at 2:30 p.m. The consolation games at Flood Tuesday will see the Monday Flood losers together at 10:30 and the Burgess losers at 2:30.

The seventh-place game Wednesday will be played at Flood at 10:30 a.m., with the third-place final also to be at 10:30 at Burgess. Consolation gametime at Flood will be at 2 p.m. and the tournament championship game at Burgess will be at 3.

Coach Harvey Christiansen's Lincoln Lions were 9-4 for the season and 6-1 in the Academic Athletic Association standings this week, tied with St. Ignatius for first place. Strong pitching, led by righthander Bob Rolls (3-0) and good clutch hitting have paid off handsomely. The Lions have won five games by one run, most of them in the last inning. Soph Al Weaver, an outfielder, is hitting .400 so far, all-City third baseman Fred Neubert is pounding at .350 and shorstop Elton Blum is around .320.

Los Altos isn't doing too well, however. Coach Al Talboy's Knights have lost five games by seven runs total, including three in a row last week. Only first baseman Pete Middlekauff is back from last year. The hitting, paced by Dave Cole's .435 is holding up well, but the pitching has been woefully short on experience and has yielded an average of a hit and a walk an inning. The Knights are 2-5-1 for the season and 1-1 in the North SCVAL.

But back to the SPAL.

FOR MORE GAMES

M-A baseball coach and tournament director Frank Bettencourt included six of the SPAL schools in the tourney lineup in an effort to give them more practice games. Thanks to the cutback this year, the baseball nines got only two practice games before the league season started and with most of the schedule still awaiting them the extra workout is much needed.

Cubberley's Cougars, currently leading the SPAL, would have to rate as tournament favorites on the basis of their good 1-2 pitching combo of Wayne Miller and Henry Newman and the good hitting they've been getting from shortstop Ray Gale, outfielder Ron Fihn and first sacker Bill Pletsch. Miller and Newman haven't been beaten yet this year.

Carlmont and San Carlos, at their present paces, could be in the final game too. Carlmont's pitching and hitting ace Steve Caria, first baseman Rick Brown and catcher Randy Shields have been lending the needed help with the stick.

San Carlos, with all its regulars back from last year, is the most experienced of the lot, with the most power to date coming from shortstop Denny Daetz and catcher Francis Marsh and the pitching from Bob Gilmer and Bill Laich, both righthanders.

Their poor early-season showings have cast Woodside and host Menlo-Atherton into purely darkhorse roles. Woodside's pitching has fallen down, as it was feared it might, and M-A has lost twice in extra innings because of its failure to get the timely hit when it was needed.

NEED PITCHING

Just the same, the Wildcats from Woodside have the hitting, with outfielder John Morton, catcher John Scott and pitcher-first baseman Forrest Willis hitting the pill well. If Willis and righthander Harvey Shank can turn in good efforts for a change, their might be a startling new look about the Cats.

The M-A Bears have had the world's worst late-inning luck, in spite of some very noticeable bright spots among the inexperienced crew. Righthander Jim Yancey has turned into a first-rate journeyman hurler, although there's been little relief help afforded as yet. The Bear hitting, what there has been of it, has come primarily from second baseman John Matthews, outfielder Dave Havard, shortstop Lee Buckingham and first baseman Dick Copenhagen. The Bears too will have to scramble. They've reached the championship final and lost in all three previous tournaments.

Palo Alto wasn't doped out be too strong this season and has proved the forecasters right. Aside from some fair pitching by John Cretarolo and a streak of hitting by Larry Lomax and Cretarolo himself, there hasn't been too much to holler about.

Co-sponsoring the tourney with M-A are the Menlo Park Recreation Department and the Menlo Park Kiwanis Club. The Rec Dept. is paying the umpires' fees, the major item of expense, and the Kiwanis Club has donated the trophies, which will be presented at the conclusion of the tournament title game.

Trophies will go to the first, second and consolation winning teams and an all-tournament team of 11 players, selected by tourney officials and covering sportswriters.

LINKSMEN LOSE

Menlo School's golf team absorbed its second loss of the season in two tries last Thursday, bowing to Cubberley High 14-13. Menlo's Jack Meyrowitz was medalist for the day with a one over par 73. The Acorns will try again today, meeting Holy Cross High at Pasatiempo Golf Course in Santa Cruz at 2 p.m.

Atherton LL Has Signup, Wants Help

First player turnout for the newly-formed Atherton Little League will be held Saturday at Encinal School, starting at 9:30 a.m.

The fledgling Little League organization got quite a response last week at its initial signup at Encinal auditorium, when 98 prospective ballplayers got on the rolls. With late signups included the list now numbers well over 100.

Sponsors and coaches also have been rounded up for the four-team league, with its official Little League charter to be along from LL headquarters at any time now.

The new sponsors are August Associates, Swanson Construction Co., Shoppers World and the Elena St. Giants. The Giants are sponsored by a group of parents, rather than a commercial firm, apparently indicative of the public support the Atherton Little League is receiving. Contributions received at the signup meeting last week from parents filled the league treasury to within 30 per cent of its planned operating budget for the coming year.

There had been nine applications for sponsorship of the four teams.

It was announced that the Encinal School baseball field will be used for both practice and league play this season.

Prospective ballplayers should appear according to this schedule: 9:30 — 12-year-olds and those with prior "major" Little League experience; 10:30—11-year-olds; 11:30—10-year-olds and younger. Any youngsters who have not signed up yet may do so Saturday.

An appeal has gone out to interested parents to assist in staffing at least two "farm teams," since only 60 boys can be accommodated on the four "major league" clubs. The aim is to give all boys who signed up an opportunity to play ball. Prospective adult leaders also should attend the Saturday signup.

Following the rating of the players Saturday, team managers will meet for their first team draft.

All in the Family:

Soph Classic Comes Wednesday

Another big round of prep baseball is on the docket for diamond fans next week which, like the varsity tournament, is being sponsored by Menlo-Atherton High School and the Menlo Park Recreation Department.

This will be the second annual Menlo-Atherton Sophomore Easter Baseball Tournament, pitting eight frosh-soph nines from all over the Peninsula at the local ballparks next Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, April 18, 19 and 21. Friday, April 20, is Good Friday, causing the playing date of the finals to be moved back to Saturday.

Wednesday's opening games will be played at M-A and the Menlo Park Veteran Administration Hospital Field. Consolation bracket games Thursday and Saturday will move to Flood Park, with the championship bracket games going to Burgess Park.

Wednesday's opening schedule: 10:30 a.m.—Los Altos vs. Woodside at VA Hospital and Carlmont vs. San Carlos at M-A; 2:30 p.m.—Sequoia vs. Mountain View at VA Hospital; Aragon vs. Menlo-Atherton at M-A.

Winners of the two Wednesday battles at M-A will meet at Burgess at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, with the two VA field winners following at 2:30. Wednesday's losers at VA field tangle at Flood at 10:30 a.m. and the two M-A losers play at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

The third-place and seventh-place finals will begin at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Burgess and Flood respectively. The consolation title game at Flood will start at 2 p.m. The tournament championship tilt starts at 3 at Burgess, so that participants in the consolation final will have time to get to Burgess for the presentations of tournament awards.

These awards will include trophies to the first, second, third place teams and the consolation winner, with individual trophies to go to the Most Valuable Player, the winning coach and a nine-man all-tournament team.

The trophies were donated by Al Adams of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. Recipients of the awards will be determined by a tournament committee and the team coaches.

Los Altos is the defending champion, whipping Carlmont 7-1 in the finals last years. Menlo-Atherton finished third, beating San Carlos. Mountain View took the consolation trophy and Woodside was the seventh-place winner.

Only team new to the tourney this year is Sequoia, which replaces Burlingame. Sequoia's addition brings to five the number of South Peninsula Athletic League schools participating—M-A, Woodside, San Carlos, Carlmont and Sequoia. Los Altos and Mountain View are from the North Santa Clara Valley Athletic League and Aragon belongs to the (north) Peninsula League.

Umpires will be Joe Di Santi, Harry Hawn, Leon Stansbury and Lynn Walters. Their fees will be paid by the Rec Dept.

M-A, Paly Mermen In Showdown Today

For all intents and purposes, the South Peninsula Athletic League varsity dual swimming title should be decided this afternoon when Menlo-Atherton and Palo Alto high schools, both sporting 4-0 records, jump off the blocks at 3:15 at M-A pool.

This is the next-to-last dual meet of the SPAL season. The winner today can do no worse than a tie and a victory in the final meet would give them all of it.

The M-A Bears tuned up last Thursday by pounding Sequoia mercilessly 75-19 at the Sequoia tank, the most lopsided score of the SPAL season. The M-A Bs also came out 55-31 winners and Sequoia turned the tables with a 47-6 C win.

Sequoia won the varsity diving event but not one of the swimming races in what for M-A has become a usual day of impressive times. They set another SPAL record too, this one a 1:47.1 in the medley relay, done by Greg Buckingham, Bill Estes, Bob Plate and John Mortensen. This quartet had set the old record earlier this year in 1:47.7.

M-A coach Bob Gaughran paired his two sprint aces, Buckingham and frosh Dick Roth, in the same race for the first time this season — the 200 freestyle — and got the fastest 1-2 finish in league history. Buckingham, who set the record of 1:52.0 two weeks ago, clocked 1:52.2 this time, with Roth coming in in 1:57.7. Former record holder Jim Miles of Sequoia was third.

Other good timings by the Bears were Mortensen's 52.2 100 freestyle, John Krug's 1:05.4 backstroke, Plate's 56.8 butterfly, Bob Laird's 23.5 50 freestyle and Roth's 2:15.5 individual medley.

Freshman Russ Kidder continued his domination of the B freestyles, copping the 200 in 2:09.4 and the 100 in 57.0 to pace the Bears to the lightweight victory. M-A took seven of the ten first places, including both relays, to win going away.

Second-Place Woodsiders Try to Hold off Challenging San Carlos

Woodside High's swimmers showed great depth to build up a lead over Palo Alto Thursday, but couldn't hold out in the diving and final relays, going down to a 50-37 South Peninsula Athletic League defeat to the co-leaders at the Woodside pool.

With their varsity record now 3-2, the Woodsiders will meet improving San Carlos High today in an attempt to stay in second place. The meet starts at 3:15 p.m. at the San Carlos pool.

Led by Topper Horack's 51.6 in the 100 freestyle, the best by an SPAL sprinter this year and third best in league history, the Vikings from Paly won four of the first six events. But Woodside took five seconds and five thirds to lead 33-29 going into the diving.

Dan Tehaney placed second in that, behind Paly's Tom Donnelly.

But it was a scorekeeping error in the medley race that cost the Wildcats the meet. They won the race, but then it was found that the names were incorrectly recorded and both teams were disqualified.

Paly won the freestyle relay by a touchout in 1:39.0.

The Woodside Bs won a close one 45-39, finally sealing it up in the medley relay. Bill Fairbanks won two for the Wildcats, doing 2:16.6 in the 200 free and 59.9 in the 100 sprint.

Woodside won everything in their 51-6 C runaway, taking all the first places.

Bears Finally Ready:

M-A, Cats To Collide

At last flying right side up, the Menlo-Atherton High Bears will trek out to Woodside High tomorrow awternoon in the local feature South Peninsula Athletic League baseball game to meet in combat at 3:15.

Coach Frank Bettencourt's Bears served notice Tuesday on the Woodsiders and the rest of the SPAL that they are not running on flat wheels by coming up with their maiden league victory of the year, a 9-6 smashfest over game but pitching-poor Palo Alto at the Viking diamond.

The win broke a four-game loss skein for the Bears and brought their SPAL mark to 1-3 and season record to 2-4. Woodside, however, smashed Sequoia 12-9 Tuesday and is 2-2 in the SPAL and also 2-4 for the year, so it could be a tussle to see who's rebounding the highest.

Bear righthander Bob Chaffet finally received a mark on the winning side of the ledger with a route-going seven-hitter while his teammates racked three Paly chuckers for eight safeties and collected nine telling walks on their way to a good come-from-behind charge.

M-A took the lead for the first time in the second inning with five runs. Chaffet and Dave Olerich followed a pair of walks off eventual loser Dave Bonnette with singles. Then normally heavy-hitting centerfielder Gus Bayle, who hasn't been able to buy a bingle this year, smashed out a two-run triple to right field, John Matthews singled him home, then stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. Bobo Wallace's one-base shot for the RBI finished that splurge.

Paly took the lead back in their third on three singles and Jim Williams' one-bagger to rightfield which an outfield error turned into a three-run homer.

It was 6-5 Paly when the Bears struck again in the fourth. Or tip-toed in. Matthews opened with a single, but Bonnette's control deserted him and by the time reliever Jon Cretarolo got out of the inning five walks had paraded across three M-A tallies.

A walk and thee safeties gave Paly a 2-0 first-inning advantage in the first of Chaffet's two bad innings. Steve Adams reached him for a solo homer in the second. Chaffet made it through the rocky third and went the last four frames unscathed. He fanned four and walked two. Bonnette lost it, after taking over for Steve Boysol in the second.

Morton, Edwards Blasts Sink Tribe

Senior outfielder John Morton unloaded the grand-daddy of them all in the seventh inning Tuesday, a grand-slam home run to leftfield, that gave the Woodside High Wildcats their most satisfying South Peninsula Athletic League baseball triumph to date, a 12-9 fandango over Sequoia at the Cherokee diamond.

Woodside has beaten Sequoia in water polo and swimming, both this year, but this was the first non-aquatic victory a Woodside varsity team has ever racked up over Sequoia in three years of trying. And it was a lulu.

Tomorrow it's Menlo-Atherton visiting Woodside at 3:15 p.m., but coach Bob Poole's Cats won't do better for fast finishes than they did Tuesday in evening their SPAL mark at 2-2.

Sequoia led 8-4 going into the sixth, with righthander Jack Ferguson on the mound in relief of Jim Franco for the Tribe. With two out, Ferguson walked Don Pooley and Morton, whence Rich Edwards slugged a three-run shot to left centerfield that went and went. A moment later, Harvey Shank singled in another and it suddenly was 8-8.

Ferguson wasn't around for the killing blow by Morton in the seventh. A pair of walks and Pooley's single loaded the bags and Jack exited, with Franco coming back to the hill. But Franco immediately hung one in for Morton and that was that.

The Cats had scored three runs in the first off Franco, the three coming in on singles by Shank and Bob Lauritzen. Three singletons and a pass put Sequoia out front 5-3 in the third.

Dick Schlenker's double, a couple of singles, a walk and a sacrifice fly added three more in the fifth, sending Woodside righthander Mitch Paige to the dugout and bringing on Shank, who got credit for the victory. Ferguson was the loser.

Marks Fall In Cat Meet

A national record and three Woodside High School swimming marks fell Tuesday at Stanford's Encina Pool, where the Stanford Freshmen handed the Woodside varsity a 58-36 loss.

Former Sequoia High speedster Marty Hull, now with the Frosh, cracked the national 100-yard butterfly collegiate standard with a 52.4 time, although the earlier time wasn't in an all-college meet either.

Gary Fitschen set the new Woodside record for the 100 breaststroke with a 1:07.7 effort and both Woodside relay teams lowered their marks, the 200 medley relay team doing 1:47.6 and the freestyle team doing 1:36.1. All three efforts still placed second in these events, however.

Trojans Still Eye 2d Win

Everything reverted to its standard sour tune for the Ravenswood High Trojans Tuesday, with the Carlmont Scots pushing over a run in the last of the seventh to sink the plucky Ravenswooders 6-5.

Oh well, each Tom Rivera's Trojans get another South Peninsula Athletic League outing tomorrow that may — just may — be more fruitful. They'll be at home, which will help, and will try to improve their 1-3 SPAL record starting at 3:15 p.m.

Big George Raybon's loud bat kept things warm for the Trojans all in the final two frames. George greeted Carlmont reliever Ron Fell with a solo home run in the sixth that cut a Carlmont lead to 5-2. Mike Capuano doubled just after and two errors on outfielder Steve Caria let him come home.

Raybon then tied the thing up in the seventh. Harry McMillen singled and Jim Tabor walked and with two away Raybon singled them both home.

But the Scots wouldn't be stopped. Pete Carmen was hit by a pitch, stole second, went to third on a bad throw and, with the infield pulled in, scored on Steve MacPherson's single to right.

It was a heartbreaker for Trojan righthander Bob Daniel, who had come in for Tabor in the sixth. The Scots had pecked at Tabor for single duns in the third, fourth and fifth and got two off him in the sixth.

Caria homered over the leftfield fence in the fourth and doubled to start the sixth-inning burst and came in on an error. Charlie Purpora batted in Randy Shields with a single. Chuck Hunt singled in the third and tripled in the fifth and was brought in both times by Carmen on a single and sacrifice fly respectively.

Acorns Return To Action With 2 Losses

Menlo School's baseballing Acorns will try to get on the Bay Counties Athletic League victory side again tomorrow, playing host to Lick-Wilmerding High of San Francisco at 3:15 p.m. The Acorns are 1-3 in the BCAL.

Coming back from their spring vacation last week, the Acorns were held to one hit by Ed Bowris while Half Moon Bay plastered two Menlo pitchers for 14 runs in a 14-0 shutout. Ernie Arbuckle's misjudged fly fell in for a triple, Menlo's only hit.

Tuesday's BCAL battle at Emery High in Emeryville was little better, the Spartans humiliating the Menlos 11-4. Menlo's Hal Moore and Emery's Bob Neuberger went all the way — each allowing seven hits. Four Acorn errors helped make only two of the Emery runs earned. Neuberger struck out 11. Moore went 3-for-3 at the plate for the Acorns.

We'll Take Cubberley — Again

Having six South Peninsula Athletic League teams in next week's Menlo-Atherton Easter Baseball Tournament is a good way to get in more practice games for the area teams, who sorely need them. But tournament director Frank Bettencourt isn't too sure about what it will do to attendance at the games.

In the past M-A tournament has drawn some pretty big names in prep baseball circles, notably the Sacred Heart High Irish and the Lincoln Lions from San Francisco. The Lions are back this year, but attendance-wise it looks like a year of experimentation. Will the area teams, some not doing so well, bring more fans with them than would up to see a non-local powerhouse in action? We'll know by next Wednesday.

In the meantime, we're feeling better all the time about having chosen Cubberley's Cougars for the SPAL crown this year, (they're unbeaten and in first place as of now), so we'll just go out on the limb and clear into the leaves and take Cubberley to win the M-A tournament.

Lincoln, the defending champion, should be their opponent, but if the Cougs saved one of their two top pitchers, namely Wayne Miller or Henry Newman, for the final, they should take the title trophy by, let's say, 4-1.

Carlmont looks like a good bet for third place, with host Menlo-Atherton the consolation champ and Los Altos taking seventh. This means the Bears probably will have to dispose of San Carlos, a tough job, but they're overdue—long overdue to bump off somebody that's tough.

A Reminder . . .

The Menlo Park American Little League will hold its annual organizational meeting tomorrow night at Hillview School multi-purpose room. League officials will assign prospective players to teams and explain the setup to their parents. The meetings in the past have drawn about 400 people, but then the AL is no slouch when it comes to getting people interested.

This is the best chance parents will have to learn how Little League operates and how their boys will be looked after. All AL parents should be there if they can.

Troy Jumpers Go 22-Plus

Even though they lost the varsity team scoring race with Palo Alto Friday at Paly 89-24, Ravenswood High's tracksters are happy this week.

Bobby Washington, Elton Harrison and Len Wiley set RHS track records in the meet against Palo Alto.

Washington sailed 22-4¾ to smash his old class B broad jump standard of 21-10. And it helped the Trojan Bs to clout Palo Alto 73-40 in the lightweight competition.

The jump is the best in many moons for a SPAL lightweight. It could be the best ever—but B records are not as well kept as those for the varsity.

Harrison improved by two feet in setting a new varsity broad jump record of 22-0 feet, breaking one set earlier this season by Washington. Elton's previous best was about 20 feet. The varsity squad, however, lost to Paly by a big 89-24 score.

Wiley cracked the other school record. He climbed 5-10 in the B high jump, topping the 5-9 mark held previously by Willie Campbell and Ray Askew.

Other good track efforts noted by coach Steve Barooshian: Varrie Booker took the C 330, high jump and 150 to lead Ravenswood to a 48-23 victory; Bill Robinson won the varsity 880 in 2:06.1, cutting his best time by almost three seconds; Nate Branch high jumped 5-6 for a second place tie and took second in the 180 low hurdles with 22 seconds flat; Ron Peres looked sharp in both B hurdle victories; Ray Johnson soared 10-6 in the B pole vault and the B relay team won in 45.8.

Winless Oaks Test Diablo Again

Still to win a ball game this year, the Menlo College Oaks will take another shot at the Diablo Valley College Viking baseballers tomorrow at Concord in a Coast Conference game at 3 p.m.

The Oaks are 0-8 for the season and 0-5 in CCJC play, not conducive to a happy season. Particularly with only 12 players, which the Oaks are now down to.

Coach Jack Rowley's Menlos bowed to Diablo Valley in their first encounter of the week, 7-4 at Menlo, throwing in eight errors along with ten Diablo hits to kill themselves. The Oaks also got ten hits off two Vike hurlers, but didn't get the help from the Diablo fielders, who boo-booed only once.

Righthander Larry Krenzin was the loser, going seven innings before Jack Callaghan relieved him. Ted Beardslee won.

Fourteen errors and a 16-hit assault sank the Oaks but good by a terrific 19-1 count at Foothill College Friday. Righthander Dick Austin took the entire beating, with 14 of the runs unearned. The Owls scored in all but one inning.

Lefty Ed Hoffacker was the victor, going the first seven rounds and notching nine strikeouts while allowing two hits. Don Wieseman got a double and triple for the Owls and scored five runs in five at-bats.

Net Roundup:

Wildcats Face Sequoia for League Lead

What could be a showdown for the South Peninsula Athletic League tennis crown could be in store for the Woodside High Wildcats tomorrow, for the Cats, 6-1 vanquishers of defending champion Palo Alto Friday and now 2-0, must face the also unbeaten Sequoia Cherokees at the Sequoia courts, starting at 3:15 p.m.

Fourth-place Menlo-Atherton, in the meantime, faces a tough task at Carlmont where where they'll pit their 1-2 SPAL record against Carlmont's 1-2 to see who stays put and who slips a little more. That's also at 3:15.

The M-A Bears skidded badly twice in a row, dropping 6-1 decisions to Sequoia Friday at the home courts and to Palo Alto Tuesday at Paly.

First singles man Doug Dawson took about two hours and 20 minutes to dispose of Paly's Bill Closs, 7-5, 4-6, 9-7 in a gruelling duel that was all the Bears could come back with for their efforts Tuesday. Third, fourth and fifth singles could have gone either way too, but Paly finally took them all in extra sets, Jeff Kerber over Steve Berg 6-2, 2-6, 6-1; Jeff Harris over Dave Brown 8-6, 3-6; and Mike Burke over John Katonah 4-6, 8-6, 6-0.

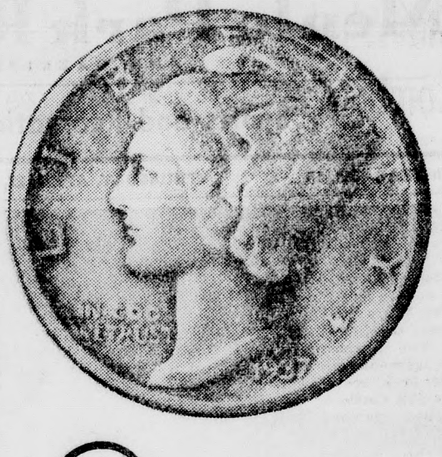

M-A's doubles tandem of Mike Neubauer and Dave Trollman were the single bright spot for the Bears Friday, copping first doubles. Tribe ace Bob Newton clipped Dawson in the feature match of the day, 7-5, 7-5.

Woodside surrendered only the fifth singles to Palo Alto Friday in their impressive triumph. Torry Bryant outdueled Closs in first singles 6-3, 6-1 to set the tenor of the meet for the Wildcats, with only fourth singles and second doubles going to exera sets. Dan Reis taking care of Harris, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2 and Bill Haven and Mike Holquin disposing of Howard Voorhies and Tully Wiedman, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Dance Class Is Proposed

Frosh-Soph Action:

Stumbling M-A Can't Find Combination; To Try Woodside

Their last chance before Easter vacation to pick up their first South Peninsula Athletic League frosh-soph baseball victory looms before the highly-disappointing Menlo-Atherton Bears tomorrow. They'll meet their cross-town rivals, the Woodside Wildcats, at Burgess Park at 3:15 p.m.

The Bears are 0-4 in the league standings, the Cats 1-3. The Ravenswood Trojans, unpredictable but with better luck, are 2-2 and will meet San Carlos at the Ravenswood diamond, also at 3:15.

All three local clubs took it in the britches Tuesday, M-A bowing to Palo Alto 3-1, Carlmont staying at the top with a 10-6 pounding of Ravenswood at Sequoia coming through with a 9-3 pasting of Woodside.

Paly's Barry Carlson outduel-M-A righthander Ernie Berg at hits and striking out seven. hits and strink ing out seven.

One of the hits was a single by John Hofferd that an outfield error parlayed into a home run for M-A's only showing on the scoreboard. Dave Kinamon's homer in the fifth inning was the highlight of the seven-hit Palo Alto attack. This was Palo Alto's first victory of the season. Hofferd got two of the M-A hits.

Sequoia righthanders Paul Compagna and Bill DeVita effectively scattered five Woodside singles to hold the Wildcats at bay, recording six strikeouts between them.

Compagna's two-run single and an infield error produced three Sequoia tallies in the second inning and the Sequoians went ahead for good in the third when Woodside leftfielder Steve Ford couldn't hang on to Bill Ryan's long fly, dropping it after a long run after it with his back to the diamond. Two runs scored.

Righthander Cris Courter took the loss, walking six, fanning three, allowing six hits and staying in trouble all the time. Fred Nichols finished up the final two innings.

Carlmont gathered in eight runs in the fourth, led by Jeff Miller's three-run homer, to sink Ravenswood. Rick Litteral socked a bases-empty four-master for the Trojans in the third. Righthander Al Smith went the route to collect for the winners. Rightie Mark Ackerman was the loser, giving way to lefty Ricky Deutscher in the disastrous fourth.

In Friday's action, Cubberley downed M-A 4-0, with Greg Taylor shutting down the Bears on three hits and whiffing six. M-A loaded the bases in the seventh but Taylor got pinch-hitter Bob Lee to pop up for the third out and end it. Lefthander Skip Gindraux went the distance for the loss, giving up nine hits. Three of the Cougar runs came in the second. John Woodmansee drove in two with a single. Bill Berg doubled and tripled for the winners.

Keith Woods went until the seventh, giving up only three hits, to post a 5-2 win over Woodside while his teammates slammed out 12. Bob Kelly relieved in the seventh and extinguished a promising Woodside rally.

Deutscher was the hero as Ravenswood handed Sequoia its first loss, 8-0. Ricky struck out nine on his way to a classy three-hitter. Three runs in the first and four in the sixth made it no-contest.

ONE OF . . . . . the few good breaks the Woodside High frosh-soph nine got Tuesday in its 9-3 SPAL loss to Sequoia was in the third inning when Woodsider Dick Barkley went clear from first to home plate on a stolen base and two quick Sequoia errors to score the first Woodside run. Sequoia catcher Doug Curry watched the progress of the last wild throw.

Pitching Falters in Wildcat Loss

It was over early for the Woodside High Wildcats in their attempt at South Peninsula Athletic League baseball competition Friday. Big righthander Harvey Shank was slugged for six hits and five runs in the first inning and the Carlmont Scots eventually left the Woodside diamond with a 9-4 victory.

Steve Caria's two-run homer was the major blow off Shank, who definitely was "off" and didn't last out the first frame. Lefty Forrest Willis came on and was hit for three more Carlmont tallies in the second but lasted the rest of the route. Once he had settled down, Willis struck out ten. He was touched for four hits.

The Woodsiders got a run in the first and three in the second off Scot starter Ron Samanduroff. Two walks, John Scott's two-RBI triple and John Morton's single finished Samanduroff and brought on southpaw Fred Reynders, who didn't allow any hits but walked nine, three in the sixth and two in the seventh. Rick Brown rescued him in the seventh. Reynders got the victory.

Another Long, Sad Haul:

Yancey's 4-Hitter Goes for Zero in Bear Loss

Despite the best pitching performance the Menlo-Atherton High Bears have had in a long time, it just doesn't seem that they can make things go their way. Such was the case Friday at Burgess Park when the Bears lost to the South Peninsula Athletic League leading Cubberley Cougars 2-0 in nine innings.

M-A righthander Jim Yancey went the first eight cantos with a beautiful shutout effort, scattering four hits, fanning four and walking exactly nobody. He was every bit the match for the Cougars' two brilliant mound flashes, Wayne Miller and Henry Newman, both righthanders. Miller started but left in the fourth when he turned an ankle running to first base.

Newman held the Bruins the rest of the way with an assortment of curves and sinkers, allowing three hits, striking out three and walking one to pick up the decision. Miller had given up one hit and whiffed four during his tour.

Yancey, though still strong in the eighth, was tiring rapidly. M-A coach Frank Bettencourt decided he'd had enough and sent in righthander Bob Chaffet in the ninth and the trouble started, not all of it Chaffet's doing.

A walk to Bob Edrington, Ray Gale's sacrifice bunt and an intentional pass to Bill Pletsch put runners on first and second. Newman then shot a grounder between shortstop and second base, which M-A shortstop Lee Buckingham let bounce over his glove and into centerfield. Outfielder Dave Havard, hurrying the play with runners heading home, couldn't handle it either and both Cougar runs scored.

Although a Bear runner reached second in the M-A half of the ninth, Newman slammed the door on the next three batters and the deed was done. Chaffet took the loss.

Menlo Mermen Club Cabrillo

Menlo College's swim team closed down the Coast Conference dual meet season Saturday, dunking weak Cabrillo College 45-36 at the Watsonville YMCA pool.

Next and final action for the Oaks mermen will be at the Coast Conference meet this Saturday at the Foothill College pool in Los Altos Hills.

The Oaks dropped Cabrillo despite a disqualification in one race and showing up with only six swimmers. They won seven individual first places and took both relays. Their final CCJC record is 2-2, good for third place.

Daniel, Tabor, McMillen Whips Sequoia

At last the Ravenswood High Trojans have beaten Sequoia in a varsity sport other than basketball.

The Trojans went into the Sequoia game with a 0-2 SPAL record — but never let the previously undefeated Cherokees assume control.

While Daniel and Tabor held Sequoia to five hits, Ravenswood hitters were collecting 12 from the offerings of loser Jack Ferguson. Smith punched out four bingles in five trips, including a double.

Ravenswood scored first when Tabor singled home Smith in the initial inning. And Tabor made it 2-0 in the fifth when he crashed a triple to right center that tallied McMillen.

Daniel was bending a big curve across the plate to keep Sequoia batters off stride and gave up only one scratch hit until the sixth — then consecutive home runs by Gary Frolich and Dick Schlenker knotted the score with one out. Tabor came in from third base.

Jim was in trouble quickly. He gave up a single, and a walk, and a infield error loaded them up. But Tabor fanned Joe Walker and then forced Mike Otis at home on Gary Beban's bounder to the mound.

Both teams settled down and the game went into the ninth frame at 2-2. Brownell's first SPAL hit, a single, came at the right time for Ravenswood. With two out, Steve went for broke on Smith's looping single to right—and slid into third safely around the Cherokee third sacker who had the ball waiting for him. Smith went to second.

It was McMillen's turn to shine. He levelled off on a Ferguson pitch and sent it screaming on a line past left fielder Joe Warner who leaped for the ball but saw it sail past. The ball rolled to the track but the hit went as a 400-foot single for McMillen since Brownell scored the winning run.

Another play of note occurred in the eighth inning when Tabor took a hard liner right at the mound, turned and threw to Gary Shouse at second for a double play that ended a potential Cherokee rally.

Bear Thinclads Eye Dons After 1st Win

With their first South Peninsula Atheltic League varsity track victory under their belts at last, the Menlo-Atherton High ovalmen go gunning for No. 2 tomorrow against a tough San Carlos squad, starting at 3:15 p.m. The Bear Bs, in second place at 4-1, are looking to stay there against the fifth-place San Carlans and the M-A Cs, in a three-way tie with San Carlos and Sequoia for third, are even money to break out of it as winners.

The Bear varsity slipped the M-A track Friday to bring their record to 1-4. The weather was good but the times weren't spectacular, but then neither team has piled up very many this season.

The final 880 relay finally decided the outcome, with Dave Tenney, Ricky Wade, Claibon Mallett and anchor man Charley Wade posting a 1:35.0 to win.

Walt Adkins was the only Bear varsity double winner, taking the 120 high hurdles in 16.4 and the broadjump with a 20-foot leap.

Kent Gilmore and Tilton Thomas each won two to pace the Bear Bs to an 81-32 runaway at Cubberley. Gilmore turned in the top individual time of the day with an 8.0 75 and added the 150 in 15.6. Thomas posted a 38.0 to win the 330 and highjumped 5-4 to take that.

M-A made it a clean sweep with a 56½-20½ C triumph, highlighted by Dan McGraw's triple, including a 8.3 75, 39.0 330 and 17-3 broadjump. He also anchored the winning 440 relay team, which was clocked at 46.4.

THE RIGHT . . . . . play at the right time—Woodside High frosh-soph catcher Tom Jenks and an inning-ending pop fly got together to put out a Sequoia rally Tuesday at the Woodside diamond with the bases loaded. Sequoia won, however, 9-3.

M-A Freshmen Clip Carlmont

Righthander Henry Agront, the last of three Menlo-Atherton pitchers, was the winner last Wednesday in the M-A frosh baseball nine's 11-10 victory over Carlmont High at Carlmont.

Righthander Dan Ready, lefty Mike Warren and Agront struck out five and walked 11 between them. Dick Vohs got two of M-A's six hits, a triple and single.

Carlmont was ahead 8-2 in the third inning, but M-A caught up and went ahead with a six-run fourth. The game was called after five innings because of darkness.

Sports Illustrated, Banquets:

Plenty of Post-Season Honors for Ravenswood Cagers

By DAVE GOODWIN

There has been no dearth of honors for the great 1962 Ravenswood High varsity basketball team.

Sports Illustrated, the national sports weekly, recognized the Trojans for their heart-pounding five-overtime victory over St. Elizabeth's High in the Peninsula Basketball Tournament.

Pictured in the magazine's Faces in the Crowd section was Nate Branch, Trojan forward who pumped in the winning goal in that final overtime.

Although SI was mixed up on some of the facts involved, the recognition for Ravenswood High and for East Palo Alto was there.

Sports Illustrated said the game won the "northern California championship" for Ravenswood, which was not the case. California, unlike many states, does not have a district or state tournament setup.

The only way the PBT champs could have claimed the mythical northern California title would be to defeat the winner of the Tournament of Champions. McClymonds was the titlist this year.

Ravenswood High coach Tom Crane did try to schedule Mack for a pre-league tussle next time around—but McClymonds was already booked up for 1962-63.

Crane WAS able to set up a rematch between the Trojans and St. Elnzabeth's. The game will be held on Saturday, Dec. 8, in Oakland. It'll be a night game.

Speaking of the sport magazine honor, Crane said "It couldn't have pleased me more than if it had happened to me when I was a player . . . It was a great thing for the whole school."

Branch indicated he knew the honor belonged to the team as a whole, not just to himself.

The Trojan varsity and B teams have been eating well recently, to say the least.

An informal spaghetti dinner financed by East Palo Alto sports fans started things off the Sunday after the tournament victory.

Then Dan Lee of Ming's restaurant in Palo Alto invited the champion varsity team to a dinner last week. The local athletes really "dug in," according to reports.

Most recent stop on the banquet circuit for the Trojans was the Menlo Park Rotary Club luncheon Wednesday of last week in Menlo Park.

The featured speaker was Don Klein, sports director of KCBS in San Francisco.

Klein, who broadcasts Stanford football and basketball on KCBS, told the Trojan players and Rotarians about the values of athletics in general and college athletics in particular.

"You fellows have a wonderful chance to take part in this. And, more important, you have the chance to go to college," he said.

Ability in basketball can help a player get into college. But he must attack his school books with the same intensity with which he practices the game before he can qualify, Klein said.

Before the program ended, Crane introduced each varsity and B ball player to the Rotarians. Art Stadler, program chairman, and John Gertridge, Rotary president, praised the teams for winning their league championships.

CLAVICHORD CONCERT

Renaissance, Baroque and Rococo music will be played on the clavichord, a soft-toned keyboard instrument of the 16th to 18th centuries, by Joan Benson, in a free concert at Stanford University Museum at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Aces Sick Last Week:

Woodside Tracksters Play Host To Ravenswood Tomorrow

Sickness and the misfortune to meet league-leading Carlmont High produced a very bad day for the Woodside Wildcats last Thursday in their South Peninsula Athletic League track meet at Carlmont and the worst loss the Cats probably will suffer this year, 91⅔-21⅓.

However, Woodside drew into a third-place tie in the standings with the Scots with a 59½-53½ triumph and the Wildcat Cs kept their record perfect while spoiling Carlmont's 46-31.

Tomorrow the Cats will try to be ungracious hosts to the Ravenswood Trojans, not doing too well in the varsity and C divisions, but whose Bs lead the loop with a 5-0 mark. Meet time is 3:15 p.m.

Miler Jim Huff and 880 runner Brian Hea, Woodside's two top varsity winners this year, were sick last Thursday, making Carlmont's job of winning its 26th straight SPAL dual meet just that much easier.

Carlmont's Lynn Arneson, who has done 12 feet in the pole vault, was out too. Bill Duvall won that with an 11-0 effort, Woodside's only varsity first place.

Dan Dempsey was the big wheel for the Woodside Bs again, taking the 75 in 8.2 and the 330 in 38.4. Dempsey also anchored the Cat 440 relay team which won in 46.7 to decide the final meet winner.

Carlmont won all but one track event but the Woodsiders took all the field firsts and the relay to come from behind and cop the C honors.

Modern Approach:

Old Italian Comedy Will Get New Twist

"The Three Cuckolds," a modern approach to an old Italian comedy, will be presented by the Stanford Players, evenings at 8:30 in the Little Theater on campus on April 25, 26, 27, 28 and May 2, 3, 4, 5.

The farce, originally a commedia dell'arte with only a "scenario" or outline, has been recreated with a modern lialougue by playwright Leon Katz. The Italian actors of several hundred years ago who performed in commedia dell'arte used only the scenario and then improvised their dialogue as they came onto the stage. Certain stock characters appeared in all of the plays.

The story of "The Three Cuckolds" centers on the vagabond Arlecchino, the traditional harlequin character, who becomes involved in the love intrigues of three couples who are neighbors. The couples are made up of young women married to men a great deal older than themselves and who become romantically involved with one another's husbands.

Luke Vania will take the role of Arlecchino. The young drama major came to the United States in 1951 from his native West Pakistan.

Lynn Boatsman will take the role of Franceshina. Her husband, Zanni, will be played by William Louis. Suzanne Payne will play Cintia with Jack Meynell playing her husband, Coriello. The third couple, Flaminia and Pantaloni, will be played by June Cook and Stephen Newman.

Charles Smith will take the role of Leandro, the lover, while Moses Goldberg has been cast in the role of the devil.

The Italian setting is designed by Wendell Cole and the traditional commedia dell'arte costumes and masks have been designed by Georgia Ryther. Lighting design is by Cary Clasz and Langley Brookes is stage manager.

Further information on the comedy may be obtained by calling DA 3-0665 on weekdays from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Multi-Purpose Petunia Is Just the Annual for Summer

The myriad sizes, shapes and colors of the petunia make it one of the truly outstanding annuals for our summer gardens. We use it for massed color in beds, for bright spots in the border, for showy edgings and for graceful cascades of bloom from plant boxes and other containers. Such versatility is unmatched by any other bedding plant.

Gardeners who plant petunias this spring will find, as usual, that the professional plantsmen have come up with their annual crop of new and exciting varieties. It is one of the seven wonders that one plant can produce so many new faces year after year.

Topping the list for 1962 are the new can-can strain of California Giants. These produce the typically ruffled, outsize blooms of the type on compact little plants. Sold in mixed colors only, these mighty dwarfs put forth blooms that are often five to six inches across.

Also new are three single multiflora petunias and a striking double multiflora. The three former include dawn satin, a light salmon pink, brass band, an unusual yellow, and plum dandy, an irridescent purple. The double multiflora is cherry tart, which produces lovely rose and white flowers on a compact plant.

The gardener should not confine his attention only to the new introductions, however, for the cream of lats year's crop and top performers from earlier years have been brought back by popular demand. The medium sized and beautifully fringed grandiflora petunias are well represented by such proven performers as the ballet improved strain, by the striped, red and white calypso, by blue lustre, by the white la paloma and many others. Returning multifloras include the outstanding pink and red sugar plum, the beautiful coral satin, the mixed pow wow strain and others.

Petunias have the reputation of doing well whatever kind of care they get. This is true to an extent, but don't try them too far, for their beauty is always enhanced by a little attention. Give them a good rich soil, plenty of water and enough pinching to encourage bushy growth. They will give you that much more in the matter of bloom.

Comedia Needs All Kinds of Trained and Untrained Help

Do you want a theatrical spare-time hobby? The Comedia Repertory Company in Menlo Park, a non-profit cultural organization, has openings for volunteers in a wide variety of fields. The semi-professional repertory company complements its professional staff of 12 with many volunteers to run the increasingly busy program.

Other volunteers are welcomed for house managers, ushers and box office personnel. The Comedia Costumers is always eager to welcome personnel interested in both costume sewing and those interested in helping to staff the shop itself.

Women are especially welcome ta join the Comedia Women's Auxiliary which aids the wholly unsubsidized theater in various projects.

Palo Alto Unit of Junior League Taps All-Local Slate of Officers

A GALA EVENING . . . is planned by Mrs. Y. A. Tittle (at left), Mrs. Gordon Soltau and Mrs. Earl Swanson (at right) for this Saturday evening at Palo Alto Hills Golf and Country Club. A fashion show will be a feature of the dinner dance, a semi-formal affair for club members and their guests. —Recorder photo

Ladera Event

Spring Week Stars Artists

"I'll bet some of those ancient Roman painters would be envious beyond belief if they could see me employing their encaustic technique with the help of a modern, electrically controlled hot tray," says Bea Miller, Los Altos artist, who will demonstrate her specialty at the Ladera Shopping Center for the Clark Auxiliary to the Children's Health Council "Spring Comes to Country House" event, April 11 through April 18.

Mrs. Miller, who uses her hot tray as a pallet, keeps her beeswax molten as she adds powdered pigment and applies it with brushes and pallet knives. Then she uses a small electric blowtorch to fuse the colors together, giving a transluscent effect.

FOR CHILDREN

A specialist in whimsical subjects, Mrs. Miller, who was a fine arts major at UCLA, will concentrate on something of special interest to children during her spring week demonstration on April 16.

Another artist to be featured on Children's Day (April 16) will be Frances Stevenson, with her potter's wheel. Mrs. Stevenson, who lives in Palo Alto, attended Wheaton College and the Rhode Island School of Design, then went to study art in Paris and at San Miguel de Allende in Mexico.

Art-in-action demonstrations will be given by various Gallery House artists every day from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. during Clark's "Spring Comes to Country House Week."

April 11, first day of the special event, two jewelers and a painter will be featured. Twenty-nine-year-old Ofra Brumo, who was born in Poland and educated in Israel, will show several aspects of jewelry-making. She attended art school in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem, but now considers herself "primarily a housewife," while her husband Michael is at Stanford doing graduate work in economics on a scholarship. The Brumos and their two-year-old daughter have been in California about six months and expect to stay through the summer.

Another jeweler who will work with silver is Grace Ralston, who teaches her craft at the Palo Alto Adult School. Mrs. Ralston used to be primarily interested in ceramics, then turned to jewelry as being "less messy" and worked at one of the silver shops in Mexico's world-famous Taxco.

Mary Nelson, who will paint in oil on April 11, is an artist of many talents. Although she was a fine arts major at the University of California, she was not especially interested in painting. Her rug-hooking, however, which she will demonstrate Tuesday, April 17, has long been more than a hobby. She uses a time-worn technique, but adds modern design.

Anna Wu Weakland, who will demonstrate Chinese brush painting Thursday, April 12, has hung paintings at the San Francisco Museum of Art and at Gumps. A graduate of the University of Shanghai, with a master's degree from Columbia University, she has taught in this area for a number of years.

Estelle Grunswald will compose as she paints on Thursday. "Art in Industry" is one of her favorite projects. She hangs paintings in offices and plants and rotates them every three months.

Norm Fontaine, who will do "expressive impressions" in charcoal, does oils and illustrations, as well as crayon work, and has exhibited at San Francisco's Palace of the Legion of Honor.

Friday, April 13, Ofra Bruno and Grace Ralston, who will again demonstrate jewelry, will be joined by Jean McCandless, who specializes in the art of collage.

Projects Start Anew

Mrs. George T. Stewart is the new chairman. An Atherton resident, along with her husband and three children, Shirley Stewart transferred from the Junior League of Chicago to the Palo Alto Unit of the Junior League of San Francisco when business interests on the West Coast influenced the family's move to Atherton.

Originally from Chicago, Shirley attended Pine Manor Junior College in Wellesley, Mass., and Northwestern University. She has been both hospitality chairman for the league and placement chairman. She is also a member of the Peninsula Volunteers, Inc.

Serving with her will be Mrs. Edward Eyre Jr., community vice-chairman; Mrs. Robert D. Conlan, administrative vice chairman; Mrs. David W. Lennihan, secretary, and Mrs. Carl S. Minden, treasurer.

Mrs. Walter McNiff will handle public relations; Mrs. M. S. Bergesen has been chosen as placement chairman. Mrs. Norman W. Hunter will serve as education chairman and Mrs. William Biggerstaff will handle league transfers. Mrs. Daniel W. King will do liaison for the league's Next-to-New Shop in San Francisco and Mrs. Douglas C. Horner of Atherton will be nominating chairman.

Outgoing chairman is Mrs. Arthur Schmitz of Los Altos.

FROM ILLINOIS

Mr. and Mrs. John Latter, with their three sons, are living in Menlo Park, having moved out to the West Coast from Park Ridge, Ill.

Monique Benoit Speaks

Monique Benoit, newspaper columnist for the San Francisco Chronicle, will speak to members of the Woodside-Portola Valley Newcomers Club and their guests at a luncheon to be held today at the Palo Alto Hills Golf and Country Club.

Monique, who very recently has christened a new column, "Monique's Daily Male," will tell of her experiences and life as a columnist.

Joining the Newcomers at the affair, according to Mrs. Lewis Todd, president, will be members of the newly-formed alumnae group of the club, the Woodolans.

Husbands of Newcomers will join their wives at a theater and supper party sponsored by the Nomads' section of the club tomorrow evening. The group will attend the Actor's Workshop production of "Three Sisters" by Anton Chekov, according to Mrs. Robert Krensky, chairman.

Anyone who is new to the Woodside and Portola Valley area, or has been a resident for two years or less, is eligible to join the club, and is cordially invited to attend both functions. Reservations may be made by calling membership chairman Mrs. William Hopkins at UL 1-7377. Luncheon meetings are held every second Thursday.

LIVING IN MENLO

Laura Leonard is a new Menlo Park resident, having formerly lived in Chicago.

Honeymoon in Mexico

Blair Walker is Bride Of Richard M. Keene

Exchanging vows Saturday afternoon at the Wesley Methodist Church, the former Blair Loren Walker and Richard Marshall Keene were later honored at a reception given at the Menlo Country Club.

Blair is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Walker of Atherton. Dick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Keene of Orland.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of ivory peau de soie and re-broidered Alencon lace. Lace fashioned the fitted bodice and the entire front of the full bell-shaped skirt was an apron of lace sweeping into a full court train of peau de soie.

Blair's bouffant veil was fastened to a cloche of matching re-embroidered Alencon lace. A cascade of lilies of the valley composed her bouquet and completed the lacy effect.

Four bridal attendants were gowned alike in willow green shantung sheath dresses with bateau necklines and detailed with tunic overskirts. Bouquets of yellow tulips, Dior bows and shoes in the same green tone conmpleted their ensembles.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Wilson of Reno. The bridesmaids were Mrs. John de Benedetti, Mrs. Brian Brennan and Susan Cox. Honorary attendants were Blair's cousin, Mrs. Richard Quistgard and Mrs. James Gaither.

Best man for Dick was his brother, Donald L. Keene of Los Angeles. Ushers were Jerry Wendt, Allan Hitchock, Bob Leet and Jack Grant.

Before Blair and Dick left on a wedding trip to Mexico, she changed to a green silk tweed suit with black accessories. When they return, the couple plans to establish residence in Oakland.

Blair is a graduate of Castilleja, attended the University of California at Berkeley and also completed an executive course at the Grace Ball Secretarial College. She was affiliate of Kappa Kappa Gamma at Cal and is a member of the Peninsula Volunteers.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Walker of Menlo Park and of John Frederick Hanson of Aptos.

Dick is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley where he was a Sigma Chi. He has spent two years in Army Intelligence as a first lieutenant. He is employed in San Francisco by Kidder, Peabody & Co. and is a member of the Olympic Club.

Parents Club:

Woodside Priory Sets Spring Ball

Parents Club of the Woodside Priory School in Portola Valley has set May 25 as the date for their Spring Ball and Champagne Supper.

The affair will be held at the Los Altos Hills Country Club. Guests will dance to the music of Joe Brigandi's orchestra from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. At midnight a candlelit buffet supper will be served with champagne.

The evening promises gaiety galore with the presentation of a mink stole and a purebred Aberdeen Angus steer to be auctioned at the high point of the evening's festivities.

PURPOSE

Parents and friends of the Priory are invited to be sponsors, patrons, or contributors to the Ball. Proceeds will be used for decorating and furnishing the new cafeteria and multi-use building now being constructed on the hillside above the existing school buildings.

The Woodside Priory School for boys is a college preparatory school for boarding and day students, ninth to twelfth grades, located on eighteen acres of rolling hills in the Portola Valley.

It was established in 1957 by a group of refugee Benedictine Fathers belonging to the thousand-year-old St. Martin's Archabbey in Hungary. It will hold its second commencement exercises this June.

Woodside Priory School Parents Club is composed of the parents of students and interested supporters who devote themselves to helping in any school activities or areas where help is needed. The club has divided itself into five committeees in an attempt to meet all the needs of the school. The committees are as follows: Hospitality under Mrs. John R. Kiely; fundraising under Tom Ferrugia; scholarship under Bernard David; library under Mrs. Hugh McCoy; publicity under Mrs. Shirley Hebert.

Ferrugia and Charles Wade, president of the Parents Club, hope the Spring Ball will set a precedent for the years to come in helping the Priory Fathers furnish the school with necessary furnishings and sports and recreation facilities.

Hat Show Presented

A fashion show of hats will be presented by the Christian Women's Club of Palo Alto at the Elks Club in Palo Alto at 12:30 p.m. today.

Official hostess of the International Christian Embassy in Washington, D.C., Mrs. Alicia Abrahamson, a widow with three children, will be guest speaker.

Fremont Friday Frolic

Tomorrow evening, Fremont School parents are invited to dance pre-parties at the Menlo Park homes of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Durbin, 43 University Drive; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miner, 240 Clair Place; Mr. and Mrs. James Wilton, 735 Windsor Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lazarus, 635 San Mateo Drive.

At 8 p.m., hostesses will serve a special internal insulator called Rabbits Foot Brew to fortify the tender pysches of their guests against any booby traps which dance chairman Jerry Jacobs may have prepared for the evening to follow.

Guests will leave the pre-parties for the Friday the 13th dance in the Fremont multi-purpose room at 9:30 p.m. when dancing will continue until 12:30 p.m.

The dance is Fremont's annual party. PTA president Janet Havard issues a special invitation to all those who are new in the district to join in the fun.

MANANA . . . . . advises Don Pooley (center) as Cheryl Moore (at left) and Sue Snavely urge his help in getting up a poster for "A Night in Mexico," sponsored by Woodside Booster Club on April 14. The evening is planned to raise funds for a Mexican study tour in June by Woodside students.

Tour Funds Raised

"A Night in Mexico" is the theme chosen for a Spanish-American dinner to be served on April 14 as sponsored by the Woodside Boosters Club.

Students, parents and friends of Woodside will convene on the Saturday evening for a 6 p.m. dinner to be followed by travelogue movies shown in the multi-use room and later by a sock-hop in the school's gymnasium.

Woodside High School orchestra will play for entertainment during dinner. Many surprise Mexican features have been arranged.

The evening is planned to raise funds for a Mexican study tour to be taken in June by Woodside students under the leadership of Dr. Dan Liebowitz of the Boosters Club and J. Castaneda, professor of Spanish.

Information and tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Gene Kerwin at DA 3-5584 or Mrs. Jo Reeves, UL 1-1861.

Medic-Alert Plans Described

Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club will complete plans for sponsoring a one-day educational program on the Medic-Alert Foundation International, when they meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Noel Thompson, 1131 Westfield Drive,

Club members will be located at various downtown Menlo Park shops and stores on Saturday, April 14, to distribute brochures and other information explaining the Medic-Alert program.

The Medic-Alert Foundation International is a charitable, non-profit organization which supplies stainless steel, or silver, bracelets with a warning engraved on the back noting the wearer's particular medical problem. In case of accident, the bracelets alert passerby or physician to administer the proper medical treatment.

Today, over 55,000 Americans with medical problems such as diabetis, epilepsy, hemophilia, cardiac diseases, severe allergies and other such problems are wearing these bracelets for their protection.

The Medic-Alert Foundation International conducts a constant year-round educational program, assisted by such clubs as the Menlo-Atherton Junior Women and other civic organizations.

The election of officers and a discussion of plans for attending the Pacifica District convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, junior membership on April 28 will complete the business portion of Thursday's meeting.

Mrs. Clem L. Bauman, club president, has also announced that the Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club nominee for Citizen of the Year will be honored at Thursday night's meeting. She is Mrs. Parry A. Watkins Jr., present club parliamentarian and also Pacifica District crafts chairman. In addition to Federated club activities, Mrs. Watkins is a Girl Scout leader, editor of the Sequoia District Girl Scout newspaper, and is active in church and other civic work.

At Country House

"Sunset Luncheon" Planned by CHC

A "Sunset Luncheon" at Country House is the treat in store for the people who are planning to lunch at the Ladera restaurant of the Children's Health Council, Thursday, April 19.

The opening of the Country House Pantry and the publication of Sunset's newly revised Barbecue Cook Book-Salad Book duet are the reasons for the celebration. Annabel Post, Sunset's home economics editor, has planned an interesting menu, with hibachi tidbits on the patio to start it off.

Country House's new venture will feature all sorts of aids to creative cookery from special wine vinegars to exotic teas. Fruit breads and salad dressings from the Country House kitchen will be on sale, as will a selection of cookbooks by California authors. The new pair of Sunset books, the Barbecue Cook Book and the Salad Book, will be available on April 19 at Country House, one day before their official publication date.

This luncheon celebration is the first in a series of once-a-month special days at Coutnry House, at which a well-known cookbook author will be on hand to autograph her book and meet her public. Featured on May 24 will be Emily Chase, whose newest book is "The Pleasure of Cooking with Wine."

Flower Show Slated

Palo Alto Garden Club will hold a flower show at the home of Mrs. Longueville H. Price, 260 Oak Grove, Atherton, on May 18 through May 20.

This is the third year through the generosity and interest of the late Mr. Price and Mrs. Price the club has been able to stage their elaborate flower show. The garden covers four acres. Among the existing choice flowers and shrubs exhibits will be placed illustrating the theme, "Our California Heritage."

Special murals and tables with flower arrangements portraying the Indian period, the Chinese, Russian and the Spanish, with their typical activities and unique tools, will be exhibited.

The Gold Rush period exhibit will contain original objects belonging to members as will many of the table settings. There will also be commercial exhibits of modern garden design.

The house itself is of unusual interest, since it is a typical California hacienda of handmade adobe brick construction. The rugs have been espjecially woven in Spain for the house, and the furniture is hand-carved oak in the Spanish style. Much of the original design and execution is by the late Mr. Price.

The proceeds from the tickets priced at $2 for adults and 50 cents for children, will be used for civic beautification purposes. Tickets will be available at the door.

The club includes many members in Menlo Park and Atherton who will be doing flower arrangements or exhibiting treasures, among them Mrs. William Lucas, Mrs. J. D. O'Brien, Mrs. Donald J. Stevick, Mrs. Lawrence Lane Sr., Mrs. F. Wells Pleas, Mrs. Robert Bowen, Mrs. George English, Mrs. Harold Severance and Mrs. Stanley W. Morshead.

Guide Dogs for the Blind

Volunteers Launch Membership Drive for Training School

Invitations have been extended to volunteer workers for Guide Dogs for the Blind for a meeting at the Palo Alto home of Mrs. Frank L. Crist on Wednesday, April 18, at 11 a.m.

Mrs. Henry Cartan III of Woodside, chairman of the Lower Peninsula campaign, has announced that preliminary plans for the May 1962 membership drive will be discussed. Mrs. Pierpont Morgan Hamilton, president of Guide Dogs, will be up from her home in Santa Barbara to meet with the volunteers and to join them for a "bring your own sandwich" luncheon at noon. Coffee and dessert will be provided.

GRADUATE

Another special guest that morning will be a recent graduate of the training school in San Rafael and his Guide Dog. Area captains who will attend the meeting with their team workers include Mrs. Robert W. Rowell, Mrs. F. Robert Burrows, Mrs. Richard Dorst, Mrs. Leonard Ware and Mrs. Gilbert Richards.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. Originally established in 1942 in Los Gatos, the school moved to its present location in San Rafael in 1947. Since its inception there never has been a charge to the blind, either for the highly - trained dog or for the 28-day residence training program.

Guide Dogs for the Blind is a non-profit organization which is supported entirely by private donations. All money is raised by volunteer committees during an annual campaign which this year will be held in May.

Any blind man or woman from the 24 Western States and Western Canada who is psysically and tempermentally suited to use a guide dog may apply to the school for training. Twenty-eight days in residence are spent by the blind person working with his dog under the supervision of a licensed trainer.

Guide Dogs for the Blind is the only guide dog school in the world that breeds all its own stock. Breeds most used for guide dogs are German Shepherds, Labrador Retrievers, Golden Retrievers, Chesapeake Bay Retrievers and, occasionally, Boxers.

When the puppies are three months old they are farmed out to 4-H children all over the state who raise them in a family atmosphere and teach them simple obedience. At a year, the dogs are returned to the school for three to five months of concentrated training before being joined with their blind masters.

All interested persons in the area who would like to help with the Guide Dog membership drive are urged to contact the team captains mentioned

"Jaleo" Given Sunday

Singing, dancing and guitar music were the background of an "Jaleo" given Sunday evening by La Mariquita (Mrs. Marie Ehrman), well-known Atherton Spanish dancer for her partner, Antonio Cordova.

From Algeciras, Antonio Cordova studied Spanish dancing in Seville with La Mariquita. They are now performing at the Players Club in Monterey.

Among the guests was Theresita Osta, also a renowned Spanish dancer, and five guitarists who played simultaneously for the entertainment and accompaniment of the guests. Instrumentalists were Jose Calarrado, Frederico Mejia, Edward Statum, Thomas Cotton and Jose Vloemens. Carol Coppock, with the West Bay Opera and recently trained for her role in Carmen by La Mariquita, was also present. Another distinguished guest was Derek Tayor, a British student of bull fighting, who has expanded his talents to the painting of bull fighting. He has also painted famous Spanish dancers and recetnly did a one-man show in San Francisco.

Cultural Events Planned To Aid Family Service

Mrs. Louis A. Roselaar is the dynamic young woman who is responsible for bringing Peninsulans the successful series of concerts presented by the San Francisco Symphony at Foothill College during the past few months.

She has now joined forces with a group of women who are interested in furthering the cultural activities of their communities as well as providing additional funds to help support the work of the Family Service Association.

As the new special programs chairman for the auxiliary, Myra Roselaar will continue her pioneering movement to make the Mid-Peninsula a cultural center in its own right. Members of the Family Service Auxiliary will volunteer their time to help with the gigantic task of organizing and dispensing information to the public, filling ticket orders, staffing box offices, etc.

By sponsoring these public service programs of a cultural nature, the auxiliary will also help to support the family service program of bringing professional family counseling to families of the Mid-Peninsula area.

Mrs. Gronway R. Parry, auxiliary president, announced that the Pacific Ballet will present two performances on the Peninsula at Foothill College auditorium, Saturday, April 28, and Sunday, April 29, at 7:30 p.m. For further information, Mrs. Roselaar may be reached by calling 948-4733.

Future plans of the auxiliary include bringing operas, plays and exhibits of an outstanding professional nature to the Mid-Peninsula.

Troop 185 Plants Daffodils

Daffodils are blooming at Hillview School in Menlo Park as the result of a service project by Girl Scout Troop 185.

The bulbs were planted by the girls as a gesture of gratitude to the school, where troop meetings are held, and to commemorate the Golden Anniversary of Scouting being celebrated this year. Daffodils were chosen because their color is appropriate for the anniversary.

Troop 185 is under the leadership of Mrs. Leo M. Davis with Mrs. Murray Innes Jr. and Mrs. M. A. Spiro as co-leaders. Scouts participating in the planting included Nancy Borden, Betsy Davis, Susie Harris, Nancy Hilmer, Georgie Innes, Lindley Lewis, Mary McLaren, Lucy Norcott, Cathy Spiro, Dodie Stern, Mary Taano and Debbie Veteran.

Fletcher-Healy Betrothal

At Palo Alto Clinic

Paintings are Selected For April Exhibition

Explores Many Styles

During the month of April, canvasses painted by a Menlo Park artist will be exhibited on the second and third floors of the Palo Alto Clinic.

The painter, Madge Leverett Willets, plans much of her work as she bicycles through Menlo Park's streets. With a painting fully planned, she paints vigorously and rapidly, not hesitating to paint out an unsatisfactory attempt to reattack her visualized concept.

After almost seventy years of living and many of painting, Mrs. Willets practices her art with the vitality of a young woman. Seeking to express the things that have impressed her most, she does not limit herself to one style, but explores many ways of painting. Her resounding colors echo her feeling about life, that it should be fully and vibrantly lived.

Mrs. Willets was born in Georgetown, Texas, on April 11, 1892. She studied at the University of Arkansas for two years. With only enough money to finance one semester, she arrived at the Art Institute of Chicago in 1913. Later she became a scholarship student and taught after-school sketch classes. She exhibited with the Art Students League and the Chicago Independent Group.

During the next thirty-six years she taught in St. Louis private schools and exhibited at the St. Louis Artist's Guild and the St. Louis City Art Museum. During the summers she painted and studied with Hans Hoffman, Ernest Thurn and Marion Hartwell. Receiving a scholarship from Colorado College, she studied there with Boardman Robinson and Otis Dozier.

Mrs. Willets gave up painting in 1949. But after retiring to Menlo Park, she resumed painting and began studying with Dr. Raymone Brose. She is a member of the Artist's Cooperative in San Francisco and exhibits there.

MADGE WILLETS . . .
. . . convinced that perseverance is the key to success works over a painting until it meets her satisfaction. She is happiest painting recognizable subjects (many of which appear at the Palo Alto clinic this month) and has attempted few abstractions.

Style Show to Aid Student Exchange

The Woodside gardens of the William Wallace Mein Jr. home will be the setting for "Around the World in Fashions," a show being arranged by the Woodside High School Field Service Committee.

The affair, which will be on May 5 at 2 p.m., will feature young fashions, many of which show international influence and American styles. Eight girls and four boys from the high school will model and foreign high school students from the area will show costumes from their countries. Mrs. Calvin Nelson will serve as commentator.

This event is being planned to support Woodside High School's participation in the American Field Service student exchange program. Last summer Tarney Smith of Menlo Park and Sue Henderson of Portola Valley represented the high school in Norway and Iceland; this year the school is host to Michiko Nagaoka from Japan. Bill Duval and Ardsley Botsford, both of Menlo Parw, are local finalists for this year's program.

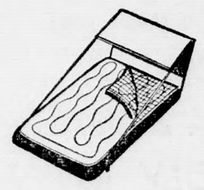

Mrs. Edgar Post of Menlo Park is general chairman of the show, assisted by Mrs. Leo Carter of Portola Valley. Refreshments, which will be served in the garden, are being arranged by Mrs. Arvin Henderson and Mrs. George Wilson, both of Portola Valley.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Chester H. Johnson Jr., 317 Westridge Drive, Portola Valley, or Mrs. Joseph Gates, 296 Atherton Ave., Atherton. They are also on sale in Miss Doris Dean's office at Woodside High School.

By MAL BYBEE

The annual Senior Recreation night on April 6 was a stag affair held in J building here at Menlo Atherton High School.

The affair was centered around a rock 'n roll band who called themselves the "Techniques." Most of the seniors danced. Those who didn't gathered at card tables where they played bridge.

First intermission brought the awarding of door prizes — "LP" albums. The second intermission brought the "Limestones," four M-A boys who did more than a first rate job of singing.

SMASH HIT!

Pleasing a younger crowd is often difficult for a group of young performers. The singing and the comedy act of the Limestones were a smash!

The Limestones' act utilized something dear to all students —the right to gripe. Mixed with more than a good supply of singing talent, they were able to put themselves across to the audience along with their ideas of how old songs should be redone.

The Limestones include John Hemphill, Tom Whiting, Bob Laird and John Black. Both Johns and Bob Laird played instruments — the gut bucket, banjo and guitar, while Tom sang.

ELECTION ASSEMBLY

Monday, April 9, was the day that the students of M-A went to the election assembly. For one hour students listened to campaign speeches for the different offices. A highpoint was a speech by Richard Briggs, who is running for Social Commissioner. His comical speech relieved the tension. Jeanne Caldwell spoke also with a light touch.

TV TIME

Monday also saw the gathering of 25 M-A girls for TV time at Sandy Ross' house. This is the fourth year that Sandy has held this get-together. The occasion was the watching of the Academy Awards show. Sandy went to M-A in her frosh-soph years, and is now finishing her senior year at Castilleja. She says, "This is the one way I get to see my friends from M-A all at once."

Spring Concert, Choir Featured

By TERRI ELLIS

Woodside High School's Spring Concert will be presented April 6 at 8 p.m. in the multi-use room. The orchestra conducted by Mr. Robert Becker, music teacher at Woodside, will feature excerpts from "The King and I" and "La Gioconda."

Highlight of the evening will be "Down in the Valley," an opera by Kurt Weill and Arnold Sundgaard. Bill Raventos, Tarney Smith, Bill Smeltzer, Mike Wright, Harold Roa and Mike Ipsen will take the leading parts.

A CAPPELLA

Ravenswood A Cappella Choir performed at the Woodside Girl's Assembly during fourth period earlier this month. The choir received a warmer welcome than Woodside High School has bestowed on anyone or any group.

The opening numbers were "Goodnight Irene," "Honor and Glory to God in the Highest," and a spiritual, "Alleluia."

During the choir's intermission, Karen Lebacqz, the 1961 Woodside representative to Girl's State in Davis, told of her experiences.

Members of the Girl's Athletic Board under Commissioner Diane Dunnigan, covered the various activities of the board and the after-school sports program, urging girls who were interested to support the club by participating in after-school sports.

Managers and members of the board were awarded a pin honoring work on the board this year. Trophies, which will be awarded at the spring banquet on May 24 for those who have participated in after school sports this year, were shown to the assembly.

After the Girl's Athletic presentations, the Ravenswood A Cappella Choir sang "Ever Time I Feel the Spirit" and the Ravenswood Hymn. They were accompanied on the piano by Nate Branch.

JUNIOR PLAY
